

College of Nursing Catalog 2017-2018

Graduate

The College of Nursing at the University of Toledo offers several graduate-level degree and certificate programs. Doctor of Nursing Practice (DNP) and Master of Science in Nursing (MSN) degrees, as well as academic certificates are offered. The Doctor of Nursing Practice Program (DNP) is designed to prepare advanced practice nurses, nurses in leadership positions, and nurses with a Bachelor of Science in Nursing to the highest level of clinical practice in order to meet the increasing complexities and challenges of the nation's health care environment. The MSN concentrations are: Nurse Practitioner, Nurse Educator, and Clinical Nurse Leader. Certificates offered are: Family Nurse Practitioner, Nurse Educator, and Pediatric Primary Care Nurse Practitioner.

Admission to Graduate Programs

Applications are completed through Nursing CAS at <http://nursingcas.liaisoncas.com> and by submitting a nursing supplemental application to the University of Toledo: <http://apply.utoledo.edu>
Admission is competitive.

NursingCAS and nursing supplemental application deadlines can be found at www.utoledo.edu/nursing/howtoapply.html
Applications must be electronically submitted by the posted deadlines.

Computer competency includes word processing skills and the ability to communicate electronically.

Administration of Programs

All graduate programs in the College of Nursing are administered jointly by the college and the College of Graduate Studies of The University of Toledo. Students may contact specific departments, the college's graduate advisor, or the College of Graduate Studies for further information on programs or admission requirements.

Advising

Students must meet with their advisor for the purpose of developing a plan of study. It is the student's responsibility to meet all requirements for the degree as specified by the graduate program, the department, the College of Graduate Studies and the University of Toledo. Students are encouraged to complete the plan of study during the first semester of matriculation.

Please note that students matriculate into a specific program track in the MSN and DNP programs, and are allowed to take the courses within their program of study. If they want to take other courses outside of their approved program track they need permission of course faculty, program directors and advisor. Permission is not guaranteed. In addition, students must apply to a Graduate Nurse program unless otherwise specified, and be accepted into a specific program in order to take CON Nursing graduate courses. They are not available to non-degree seeking guest students.

Graduate Certificate: Nursing Education

The knowledge and application of the principles of teaching and learning, program development, assessment, and the evaluation of learners is paramount for the role of the nurse as educator. All classes are conducted online.

The Nursing Education Certificate Program at The University of Toledo is designed to provide an opportunity for current and potential nurse educators in academic and healthcare settings to develop and refine the practice of teaching. Graduates of the program receive a certificate acknowledging successful completion of advanced preparation. This certificate depicts a commitment to the professional responsibility as an educator in a variety of healthcare settings.
