

Colleagues and Friends:

We hope all is well 'out there' in the world of itinerant preschool SPED services. We would like to take this opportunity to announce that Drs.

Dinnebeil and McInerney have just had a book published by Paul Brookes. This 'Guide to Itinerant Services' is now available via Paul Brookes and Amazon. Basic information about the book, and its organization and content are available at this link:

<http://www.brookespublishing.com/store/books/dinnebeil-69650/index.htm>

We think that administrators will find this book useful in evaluating the current state of itinerant services in your district. We also think the book would be helpful in addressing issues related to professional practices and professional development of itinerant preK SPED teachers.

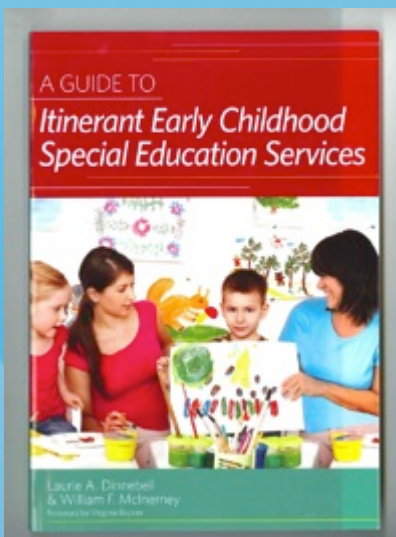

If you purchase the book, please let us know what you think.

Thank you and best wishes
