

Mission Statement

The University of Toledo Police Department is dedicated to providing excellence in service to the campus community. We shall strive to insure a safe, secure and pleasant atmosphere, conducive to a positive social and educational process, in our law enforcement efforts to protect the University community.

Partners in Policing

The UTPD has a close working relationship with local and federal law enforcement agencies. Information concerning crime, statistics, and trends are shared with local agencies as well as others in Northwest Ohio on a continuing basis.

Training Standards

UT Police officers have met or exceeded the training standards of the Ohio Peace Officers Training Council. They receive annual in-service and specialized training in first aid, CPR, firearms, bike patrol, defensive tactics, nonviolent crisis intervention, human diversity, legal updates and other pertinent areas. Several officers are certified instructors.

To Protect and Serve

UT Police officers enforce state and local laws along with University regulations. They are also responsible for public services, such as crime reports, medical and fire emergencies, traffic control, and traffic accidents.

Community Oriented Policing

The University Police Department's philosophy of policing is centered around a cooperative working relationship with the campus community. The goal is to help one another strive toward a safer campus community, and to continually improve the quality of life on campus.

Police officers are very involved in campus activities and actively work to build partnerships with students, faculty and staff to promote a safe campus community.

UT Police utilize a variety of technology – including CCTV cameras and emergency phones – coupled with a wide-range of safety programming and initiatives – including a Night Watch student escort service – in its ongoing effort to provide a safe environment for discovery, learning, and healing.

The UT Police station is in the Transportation Center, located on the south side of the Main Campus. The UTPD offices on the Health Science campus are in the basement of the Mulford Library.

Officers are deployed in vehicles, on foot, and on bicycles. Criminal Investigations includes two detectives who are responsible for investigation of crimes against persons and property, maintaining the department's criminal records database, and working with other area law enforcement agencies. UT Police boasts one of the only explosives detection dogs in the state. UTPD K-9 Boomer responds to requests for service across northern Ohio and southeast Michigan.

The officers assigned to Community Affairs play vital roles in the UTPD's ongoing community relations initiatives with the office of Residence Life and the various neighborhood associations. Community Affairs also offers a variety of crime prevention programming, including Rape Aggression Defense (RAD) training, seminars on how to avoid being a victim of a crime, and tips on how to be a good neighbor. The Special Events office coordinates all security efforts for all on campus events, including sporting matches, concerts, and VIP visits.

Parking Enforcement Office – includes a staff of 20 student ticketers, known as the Rocket Patrol. Rocket Patrol is responsible for issuing parking tickets when vehicles are found to be parked in violation of University parking regulations. The Parking enforcement Office is responsible for following up on all UT parking citations and UT traffic tickets. The office is also responsible for immobilizing and towing vehicles.
