Changes and Reason for Changes (Less than 1500 words or 5000 bytes)

Request of approval of the Program Requirement Revision for the Doctor of Physical Therapy Program is outlined below

1 PhyT 505 Analysis of Movement I (3 credit hrs) and PhyT 506 Analysis of Movement II (1 credit hr) merged into a single 4-hour course (PhyT 505 Analysis of Movement) -- given the re-sequencing of Year 1 courses, content of PhyT 506 is needed earlier in the sequence to serve as the foundation for other courses in Year 1

2 PhyT 511 Clinical Pathophysiology (3 hrs) was expanded and divided into 2 courses -- additional content required to meet the expectations of contemporary, entry-level practice and to comport with accreditation standards of practice Content (both original and expanded content) will be divided between 2 courses PhyT 511 Clinical Pathophysiology I (1 hr) and new course entitled PhyT 512 Clinical Pathophysiology II (3 hrs) PhyT 511 (revised) will serve as an introductory course (original content) and will be taught during the summer semester, which is only 9 weeks in duration

The net result of these modifications is the addition of 1 credit hour to the number of hours required for completion of the Doctor of Physical Therapy degree -- from 94 semester hours to 95 semester hours, which remains significantly lower than the average number of credit hours of the 200+ physical therapy programs in the US
