Using Outlook 2007 to connect to your rockets.utoledo.edu account using the Exchange mail settings

To set up the Outlook 2007 client to connect to your rockets.utoledo.edu email account using the exchange function, follow the instructions below. This will allow you to gain access to your email, calendar and contacts that are stored in your rockets.utoledo.edu account. There are 8 steps to this account set up process.

1) Open up the control panel of your computer and choose “mail” from the menu.
2) Once the Mail Setup screen opens, choose the “Email Accounts” button

3) This will bring you to the Account Settings page where you will click the “New” button under the “Email” tab.
4) The next screen will ask you for your name, email address and password. Make sure that the “Manually configure server settings or additional server types” is not checked. This will allow for the program to auto-configure your account as an exchange account in Outlook.

5) After entering your information and choosing “Next”, you will be prompted to allow the website to configure your email account server settings. Choose “Allow” when this prompts you.
