

RESOURCES USED WHEN VERIFYING CITATIONS

The resource you select to verify a reference depends upon the type of reference (article, book, etc.), the subject of the reference (medicine, nursing, psychology, etc.), and the date of the reference. If you have any questions about these resources and their uses, or if you are having trouble verifying a citation, contact Mulford Reference Assistance at 419-383-4218 or MulfordReference@utoledo.edu. You may also use IM reference to chat with a librarian (for details see <http://www.utoledo.edu/library/mulford/resources.html>).

All listed resources are available online unless otherwise noted. Access to these online resources, unless otherwise indicated, is available through the Mulford Library web page.

Articles in Journals

The resources listed in this section are the most commonly used databases on campus. Databases covering non-health science disciplines (education, business, history, etc.) are available through OhioLINK. The Library has online access (on campus only) to a resource called Ulrich's Periodicals Directory that indicates which databases index a particular journal title.
