

Contents

Foreword	XI
Our Contributors	XIII
Introduction to the History of Central Europe	1
Francis S. Wagner

PART I

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

1. Signs of the Times:
a) On an East-West Security Conference	13
b) Toward a Third Way in a New Central Europe
2. Toward a Constructive Ideology and Policy in a New Central Europe	25
Eugene Padanyi-Gulyas
3. Neutralization of a Buffer Zone Between Germany and Russia
The Possibility of a Neutralized Zone in Central Europe	33
Edward Chaszar
Austrian Neutrality and European Integration	40
Fritz Bock
Ideas of an Austrian on the Coexistence of Nations in the Danubian and Carpathian Basins	44
Josef Matl
Three Neglected Documents on Self-Determination and Neutrality	49
Miroslav Lazarovich
4. Central Europe in East-West Relations
Britain and Eastern Europe	52
C. A. Macartney
American Interests and Obligations in the Danubian Basin	55
Albert Wass
Croatia and Central Europe	59
Stjepan Buc
What has to be done	68
Stan Ionescu
Scanning the Horizon: World Politics and Central Europe	73
Tibor Eckhardt
Forgotten Sentiments: The British Labour Party and Central Europe	79
Alexander Gallus

The Second Phase of German Foreign Policy in Eastern Europe	87
Wenzel Jaksch
The Hungarian Freedom Fight and the Entry of the Soviet Army	94
Istvan Szentpaly
The Poet Yevtushenko and Peace in Central Europe	101
G. H. Sikorsky
The Place of East Central Europe in Western Civilization	104
Edward Chaszar

PART II

FEDERALISM IN CENTRAL EUROPE

From Kossuth's Unknown Federalist Papers	115
Bela Talbot Kardos
Federation in Central Europe	129
Milan Hodza
Danubian Federation	138
F. O. Miksche
Regional Federalism or a New Cataclysm	146
Miroslav Lazarovich
Problems of Federalism in the Danubian Area	160
Bela Talbot Kardos
Initiatives Toward Cooperation in the Danubian Basin in the 19th and 20th Centuries	186
Pal Auer
Federalist Aspirations in East Central Europe	195
Edmund I. Lazar
Nationalism vs. Federalism in Historical Perspective	213
Francis S. Wagner
Central European Federation Including Switzerland	223
Gyula Tassonyi
East Central European Unity	228
Joseph Galganowicz
Covenant of the Peoples in the Carpathian and Danubian Basins	230
Eugene Padanyi-Gulyas
A Safeguard of Peace in East Central Europe	245
Ferenc Koszorus
Missed Opportunities for Federalization	252
Bela Padanyi-Gulyas
Slovakia and the Integration Plans of Central Europe	259
Joseph M. Kirschbaum

Czech and Slovak Statesmen in Favor of a Central European Federation	266
Joseph Ostrovsky
Pronouncements on Federalism in the Danubian and Central European Area	276
The Mid-European Research Institute, New York, N.Y.
Manifesto for a Danubian Federation	285
Béla Bartók, Zoltán Kodály, Endre Ady and others.

PART III

THE NATIONALITY QUESTION

Pseudo-National States or Real National Identities in Central Europe	291
Alexander Gallus
Socio-Linguistics for a Just Peace in the Danubian Basin	296
Adam Makkai
Cultural Pluralism and the Study of Complex Societies in Anthropology	310
Alexander Gallus
The Hungarian Minority Problem in Rumania	326
International Commission of Jurists
The Hungarian Minority Problem in Transylvania	332
A letter from the Federalist Union of European Nationalities (FUEN)
The Situation of Hungarians in Transylvania and Rumania	334
Memorandum of the American Transylvanian Federation
The Nationality Problem in Czechoslovakia After World War II	336
Francis S. Wagner
The Changing Image of T. G. Masaryk Between 1945 and 1968	346
Francis S. Wagner

PART IV

ECONOMIC PROBLEMS

Micro- or Macro-Economics of the Central European Nations	351
Richard K. Bartoniek
Cooperatives: Problems and Solutions	358
George Kaler

PART V

APPENDIX — Maps and Statistical Data

Numerical Strength and Growth of the Danubian Nations Between 1851 and 1967	371
The Mid-European Research Institute, New York, N.Y.
Index	389