

Wanted!

All Undergraduate Students!!!!!!
$500 for Best Essay Writer!

2012 Shapiro Essay Revision Contest

Sponsored by University of Toledo's Composition Program

WANT to earn some money? Invest one to two hours revising a short essay to compete for one of 15 cash awards from $75 to $500. Not bad pay, at $37.50 per hour, if your essay gets even one of the 10 $75 awards. Also, participation in a college writing contest looks good on your resume. A minimum of three prizes will go to freshmen writers and a minimum of three to sophomores

Your job? Revise a short essay using your good writing and sharp analytic skills. The essay will be provided at six sites and times across campus during the last week of February. Cool activity just before Spring Break! Pens, dictionary, thesaurus allowed, but no laptops or other resources. Call Dr. Coulter-Harris at ext. 4416, or email questions to deborah.coulter-harris@utoledo.edu for more details.

8 Contest Locations and Times:

DAY	DATE	TIME	LOCATION
Monday	20 February	3:00 to 5:00 pm	Field House 2420
Tuesday	21 February	5:00 to 7:00 pm	Field House 2420
		7:00 to 9:00 pm	Field House 2420
Wednesday	22 February	11:00 to 1:00 pm	Field House 2420
		7:00 to 9:00 pm	The Writing Center, 1005 CL
Thursday	23 February	Noon to 2:00 pm	Field House 2420
		7:00 to 9:00 pm	Field House 2420
		7:00 to 9:00 pm	COB-1000B at UTMC Campus

The Shapiro Writing Contest is named for and supported by funds established by Dr. Edward Shapiro, Professor Emeritus in Economics, who retired from the University of Toledo in 1989 after 22 years of service. An undergraduate of UT, he went on to obtain an M.A. from Ohio State University and Ph.D. from Harvard. Dr. Shapiro donated this money to recognize and reward future UT students in what he regarded as the craft of good writing.