

College of Medicine & Life Sciences Posting #41317

UT Dean's PostDoc to Research or Tenure-Eligible Faculty Track Transition Position

Department of Physiology & Pharmacology

The University of Toledo College of Medicine and Life Sciences (UTCOMLS) houses an innovative program designed to accelerate the transition of postdocs to extramurally-funded, tenure-track UTOLEDO faculty. Several postdoctoral positions are available for individuals of an ambitious mindset, who come prepared with innovative ideas for NIH-level funding. Candidates must also have the ability to develop and test hypotheses independently, work in a collaborative environment and possess excellent communication skills both in written and oral presentations. The program is for 2 years with an opportunity to extend to a third year. Candidates will have competitive opportunities to transition into faculty tracks within the various Departments of UTOLEDO. Besides merit, a key factor for recruitment will be the candidates' long-term commitment to serve as faculty members at our Institution.

Candidates must have a Ph.D. degree in a relevant discipline with significant laboratory research experience preferably in physiology, genetics & genomics, endocrinology, or cell and molecular biology. The ideal candidate should have interests relevant to whole-animal or human physiological systems, preferably in the areas of cardiovascular, renal, endocrine or metabolic diseases, including biomarkers, genetics, or the impact of the microbiome on those systems. For potential mentor match, candidates should become familiar with the strengths of the Department of Physiology & Pharmacology, which include: the Microbiome Consortium
