MAGSS 2009

The 42nd Annual Mid-Atlantic Graduate Student Symposium in Medicinal Chemistry

June 21st-23rd, 2009
Toledo, Ohio

The 42nd Annual Mid-Atlantic Graduate Student Symposium in Medicinal Chemistry will be held this year at The University of Toledo. Participation is strongly encouraged as graduate students will have the opportunity to present their research in either an oral or poster format. The conference will incorporate a keynote speaker, an interactive panel discussion with scientists from different backgrounds, and the traditional MAGSS dinner/ice breaker. For additional information, including Registration and Abstract Submission guidelines, please visit the official 42nd Annual MAGSS website at:

This year, MAGSS will celebrate the 100th Anniversary of the Division of Medicinal Chemistry of the American Chemical Society. Established in October of 1909 and officially named in 1928, the ACS Division of Medicinal Chemistry possesses a rich history and boasts a diverse membership of well over 10,000 individuals both in the United States and abroad. We genuinely look forward to seeing you and encourage everyone to participate and experience the MAGSS tradition during the 2009 meeting here at The University of Toledo this June.
