

The University of Toledo - Main Campus Policy

III Research and Economic Development

University Office Of Research

The University Office of Research is a major entity within the Division of Graduate Studies, Research and Economic Development. The other major entities within the division are the Graduate School and Information Technology.

Adopted by the UT Board of Trustees, February 10, 1999