Title IX Notice of Non-Discrimination

The University of Toledo ("University") is committed to educational and working environments that are free from sex discrimination (including sexual harassment, sexual assault), and retaliation due to sex discrimination. Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 ("Title IX") is a federal law that prohibits sex discrimination. This policy is consistent with the requirements of Title IX, Title VII, as well as relevant state laws.

The University encourages the reporting of sexual misconduct, sex discrimination, or retaliation related to a report of sexual misconduct or sex discrimination that may occur in its programs or activities. This is to ensure that the University has an opportunity to address prohibited conduct. Reports may be made online on the University’s reporting website or by contacting any of the resources identified in this policy.

Sexual misconduct includes sex discrimination, sexual harassment, sexual violence, sexual assault, conduct that exploits another person in a sexual and non-consensual way (such as voyeurism and non-consensual recording), stalking, interpersonal relationship violence, and indecent exposure.

The University is strongly committed to maintaining a safe campus and preventing unlawful discrimination and harassment in its programs and activities. Upon notice of possible sexual misconduct or sex discrimination, the University takes prompt and appropriate steps to determine what occurred through a fair and impartial process, end a hostile environment if one exists, and prevent recurrence.

The University utilizes fair and impartial processes that are mindful of the rights of individuals accused of sexual misconduct and sex discrimination, while taking steps to ensure equal treatment of complainants and provide necessary interim or protective measures for the parties involved. If the University finds that sexual misconduct occurred, it imposes appropriate sanctions, and provides remedies to complainants and the campus community, as appropriate. The University does not tolerate retaliation based on sexual misconduct, including retaliatory harassment, in its programs and activities.

(B) Purpose of the Policy

The University seeks, through this policy, to acknowledge and comply with its duties under federal and state laws and set forth a comprehensive framework for receiving, processing, investigating, and resolving complaints of sexual misconduct. This policy also provides the University community with necessary information regarding how to make complaints, receive assistance and support, and what to expect from the investigation process.

(C) Scope

This policy applies to all faculty, staff, students, student groups, student organizations, and third parties (i.e., individuals such as vendors and visitors), regardless of sexual orientation, gender identity, or gender expression. The policy covers sexual misconduct and retaliation for participating in an investigation based on sexual misconduct that occurs in University programs and activities, that is, on University property, or at University sponsored events, this includes instances where sexual misconduct or retaliation based on sexual misconduct occurs off-campus, but has an effect on-campus, on University property, or at a University-sponsored event.

All reports of alleged sexual misconduct in a University program, activity, department, or college will be investigated in the manner set forth in this Policy.
Claims that allege both “sexual misconduct” as defined by this policy and other unlawful discrimination or harassment covered by the Nondiscrimination Policy (Policy 3364-50-02), or by the Nondiscrimination on the Basis of Disability Policy (Policy 3364-50-03), will be addressed jointly by the Title IX office and the designated investigator(s) under the applicable policy.

The University upholds the requirements of the Constitution of the United States of America. This policy will not be interpreted to impinge upon any constitutionally protected rights or privileges, including those under the First or Fifth Amendments.

Definitions and Examples

(Additional relevant definitions and examples, including state law definitions, are set forth in Appendices B and C to this policy. All definitions utilized in any section are valid for the purpose of a sexual misconduct investigation.)

Complainant: The individual alleged to have experienced sexual misconduct or retaliation in relation to this policy. There may be more than one complainant for an incident.

Consent: Consent requires unambiguous communication and mutual agreement concerning the act in which the participants are engaging. Consent must be informed, freely given, mutual, and can be withdrawn at any time. A person cannot give consent if they are mentally or physically incapacitated such that the person cannot understand the fact, nature, or extent of the sexual situation; this includes incapacitation due to age; alcohol or drug consumption; or, being asleep or unconscious. Similarly, a person cannot give consent if forced, expressed or implied, is used; or if, duress; intimidation; threats; or deception are used on the complainant. Silence or the absence of resistance does not imply consent. Consent to some sexual acts does not imply consent to other acts, nor does prior consent to sexual activities imply ongoing future consent with that person or consent to that same sexual activity with another person. Whether an individual has taken advantage of a position of influence or authority over the complainant may be a factor in determining consent. Minors under the age of 16 are incapable of giving consent under Ohio law under any circumstances.

Days: Monday through Friday, excluding Saturday, Sunday, recognized University holidays, and approved University breaks.

Incapacitation: Incapacitation occurs when a person is unable to give consent, due to the use of drugs or alcohol, or a cognitive impairment. In considering whether a complainant is incapacitated due to the consumption of drugs or alcohol, the University will consider the circumstances, including factors such as whether there is evidence of slurred speech, vomiting, stumbling or the inability to walk, or periods of “blacking out.” The presence of only one of these factors may not be sufficient to establish incapacitation; the totality of the circumstances must be examined.

Indecent exposure: Recklessly exposing genitals in front of another person or engaging in masturbation or other sexual conduct in a place likely to be seen by other people.

Interpersonal relationship violence (also known as intimate partner violence, dating violence, domestic violence, interpersonal violence, or relationship violence): A pattern of abusive behavior in any relationship that is used by one partner to gain or maintain power and control over another intimate partner. Interpersonal violence can be physical, sexual, emotional, economic, or psychological actions or threats of actions that influence another person. This pattern may include, but is not limited to any behaviors that intimidate, manipulate, humiliate, isolate, frighten, terrorize, coerce, threaten, blame, hurt, injure, or wound someone. Interpersonal violence can occur in a domestic relationship (domestic violence) or a dating relationship (dating violence).1

(1) A domestic relationship would be:
   (a) By a current or former spouse or intimate partner of the victim;
   (b) By a person with whom the victim shares a child in common;
   (c) By a person who is cohabitating with, or has cohabitated with, the victim as a spouse or intimate partner;
   (d) By a person similarly situated to a spouse of the victim under the domestic or family violence laws of the jurisdiction in which the crime of violence occurred; or

1 Other forms of interpersonal relationship violence:
Physical abuse: Hitting, slapping, shoving, grabbing, pinching, biting, hair pulling, etc. are types of physical abuse. This type of abuse also includes denying a partner medical care or forcing alcohol and/or drug use upon him or her.

Sexual abuse: Coercing or attempting to coerce any sexual contact or behavior without consent. Sexual abuse includes, but is certainly not limited to, marital rape, attacks on sexual parts of the body, forcing sex after physical violence has occurred, or treating one in a sexually demeaning manner.

Emotional abuse: Undermining an individual's sense of self-worth and/or self-esteem is abusive. This may include, but is not limited to constant criticism, diminishing one's abilities, name-calling, or damaging one's relationship with children.

Economic abuse: Is defined as making or attempting to make an individual financially dependent by maintaining total control over financial resources, withholding one's access to money, or forbidding one's attendance at school or employment.

Psychological abuse: Elements of psychological abuse include - but are not limited to - causing fear by intimidation; threatening physical harm to self, partner, children, or partner's family or friends; destruction of pets and property; and forcing isolation from family, friends, or school and/or work.
(e) By any other person against an adult or youth victim who is protected from that person’s acts under the domestic or family violence laws of the jurisdiction in which the crime of violence occurred.

(2) A dating relationship would be:
   (a) Violence committed by a person who is or has been in a social relationship of a romantic or intimate nature with the victim; or

   The existence of such a relationship shall be determined based on the reporting party’s statement and with consideration of the length of the relationship, the type of relationship, and the frequency of interaction between the persons involved in the relationship.

Non-consensual recording: Sexual harassment by recording of a person while undressing, naked, or engaged in sexual behavior without their consent. Transmission of non-consensual recording(s) will be considered as a factor of sexual harassment.

Respondent: The individual alleged to have engaged in sexual discrimination, sexual misconduct or retaliation.

Retaliation: Retaliation occurs when an individual has engaged in a protected activity (such as filed a sexual misconduct complaint or participated in an investigation of alleged sexual misconduct), and adverse action is taken against the individual because of involvement in the protected activity related to sexual discrimination or misconduct. Retaliation can be committed by the complainant, respondent, or any other third party. The person accused of committing the retaliation may or may not be the same as the respondent. Retaliation may be a separate investigation from the sexual misconduct investigation with its own finding.²

Sexual assault: Unwelcome physical conduct of a sexual nature, including unwanted kissing, touching, oral, vaginal, or anal sex, which occurs in the absence of consent. This includes non-consensual penetration, no matter how slight, of the vagina, anus, or of, or by an oral cavity with any body part or an object used in lieu of a sex organ. This also includes placement of a sexual organ upon another person without consent or ejaculating upon another person without consent. Sexual assault includes fondling (the touching of the private body parts of another person for the purpose of sexual gratification, forcibly and/or against that person’s will; or not forcibly or against the person’s will where the victim is incapable of giving consent because of their youth or because of their temporary or permanent mental incapacity).

² Example: A student files a sexual misconduct complaint against a professor. The professor gives the student a poor grade because the professor is upset that the student filed a complaint.

Example: A staff member files a complaint alleging sexual misconduct. The respondent’s friends follow the staff member around campus every day and make verbal threats because the staff member filed a complaint.

Example: A student complainant files a complaint about another student respondent concerning gender-based comments that are inappropriate. The complainant or friends then send out posts on social media attacking the respondent and the respondent’s friends and family.
Sexual coercion: The act of using pressure, alcohol or drugs, or force to have sexual contact with someone against a person’s will.

Sex discrimination: Negative or adverse treatment based on sex, sexual orientation, gender, gender expression, or gender identity.

Sexual exploitation: An act or acts committed through non-consensual abuse or exploitation of another person’s sexuality for the purpose of sexual gratification, financial gain, personal benefit or advantage, or any other non-legitimate purpose. The act or acts of sexual exploitation are prohibited even though the behavior does not constitute one of the other sexual misconduct offenses.

Sexual harassment: Sexual harassment is unwelcome conduct of a sexual nature. It includes unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal, nonverbal, or physical conduct of a sexual nature.

3 Sexual exploitation occurs when a person abuses or exploits another person’s sexuality without that person’s consent. Sexual exploitation can look like:

- Recording images or audio (without that person's consent) of sexual activity, intimate body parts, or nakedness.
- Distributing images or audio with the content above if the person distributing them does not have that person's explicit consent, including streaming.
- “Revenge pornography” in which a person threatens to post, or actually does post, images, audio, or video of their partner participating in sexual activity.
- Viewing another person’s sexual activity, intimate body parts, or nakedness without their consent in a place where that person would have a reasonable expectation of privacy.
- Exposing someone's genitals without their consent.
- Prostitution another individual.
- Knowingly exposing another individual to a sexually transmitted disease or virus without that individual’s knowledge.
- Inducing incapacitation for the purpose of making another person vulnerable to non-consensual sexual activity.

4 Examples of sexual harassment: (1) A student is sexually assaulted by another student; (2) A professor asks a student to have sex with in order to get a better grade; (3) students in a residence hall target another student by writing unwelcome sex-based comments on the student’s door; making negative, sex-based comments to the student in class, and threatening physical harm to the student.

When the facts establish that an institutional power differential existed within the relationship and an allegation of sexual harassment results, the University will closely scrutinize a defense that the relationship was consensual.

Example: A person who asks another on a date is not responsible for sexual harassment if it occurs once or twice. If the conduct is repeated, unwelcome, severe, or pervasive, then it could become sexual harassment.

Example: An accidental touch of a body part or brushing against another person is not sexual harassment if the conduct was not of a sexual nature.
Hostile environment: Exists if the conduct is sufficiently serious (severe or pervasive) that it interferes with or limits a student’s ability to participate in or benefit from the University’s program or an employee’s ability to perform their job. The more severe the conduct, the less need there is to show a repetitive series of incidents to prove a hostile environment, particularly if the harassment is physical.

Quid pro quo: Occurs when participation in or receipt of a benefit of the University’s program is made contingent on the provision of sexual favors for or by a person who has the authority to make decisions about participation or receipt of benefits or when the rejection of a sexual advance or request for sexual favors results in the denial of participation in or receipt of a benefit of the University’s program.

Sexual misconduct: Sexual misconduct includes sexual harassment, sexual violence, sexual assault, conduct that exploits another person in a sexual and non-consensual way (such as voyeurism and non-consensual recording), stalking, interpersonal relationship violence, and indecent exposure. Sexual misconduct may also be discrimination, harassment, or violence based on sexual orientation, gender identity, or gender expression.

Sexual violence: Sexual violence is physical sexual acts perpetrated against a person’s will or where a person is incapable of giving consent (for example, due to the person’s age or use of drugs or alcohol, or because an intellectual or other disability prevents the person from having the capacity to give consent). A number of different acts fall into the category of sexual violence, including sexual assault, sexual battery, sexual abuse, and sexual coercion.

Sexual voyeurism: Spying on people engaged in intimate behaviors, such as undressing, sexual activity, or other actions usually considered to be of a private nature. The person accused of voyeurism does not have to directly interact with the subject of interest. Voyeurism is frequently done secretly and may involve non-consensual recording or capturing of the intimate behaviors.

Stalking: Engaging in a course of conduct directed at a specific person that involves repeated or continuing harassment made against the expressed wishes of another individual, which causes that individual to feel emotional distress including fear, harassment, intimidation or apprehension.5

Written notification: All correspondence will be sent via e-mail to one’s assigned University e-mail address. Should an individual not have a University e-mail address, agreement will be made as to the best source of contact (other e-mail address provided in writing).

(F) Making a Report

(1) Where and how to file a complaint.

Timeframe for filing: Complaints of sexual misconduct should be filed as soon as possible. The University encourages timely reporting of complaints, as delays in filing may impair the 5 Examples of stalking behavior include but are not limited to following or appearing within one’s sight; approaching or confronting someone in a public place or on private property; appearing at one’s workplace, home, or school; entering onto property someone owns, leases, or occupies; contacting someone by phone, postal mail, email text, or social networking sites; placing or delivering an object to property that someone owns, leases, or occupies; and/or verbal threats.

University’s ability to fully and adequately respond in a manner that is fair, impartial, and equitable to all parties.

Where to file: A complaint can be made by completing a Title IX Reporting/Complaint Form available on the University’s website at http://www.utoledo.edu/title-ix/. The completed form also may be hand-delivered, emailed, or mailed to the Title IX Office. The complaint can be filed by any member of the University community or third party. Parties may also call the Title IX Office at 419.530.4191; the resulting information will be entered into the above referenced Title IX Reporting/Complaint Form.

Anonymous complaints: Persons may also make anonymous complaints by completing the above referenced Title IX Reporting/Complaint Form available on the University’s website at http://www.utoledo.edu/title-ix/. To report anonymously, do not fill in your name, position, phone number, or email under “Reporters Information.” Anonymous complaints can also be made by calling the toll-free Anonymous Reporting Line at 1-888-416-1308.

(2) Confidentiality

The University takes seriously the need to respect the privacy of the parties in responding to reports and complaints of sexual misconduct. The University shares information on a limited, “need to know” basis, in accordance with federal and state law and the Ohio Public Records Act. Information may be shared on a need to know basis when the safety of others or the campus is at issue.

The University is required to share with the University of Toledo Police Department and the Clery Act Compliance Officer information regarding certain conduct (e.g., reports of sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, and stalking), unless the reports are made exclusively to confidential sources. To maintain the confidentiality of a report of sexual misconduct, complainants should utilize the resources identified in Section D (above) as confidential.

(3) Minors

Any information concerning a minor as a complainant or respondent will be provided to the parent/guardian of the minor by the Title IX Office as soon as practicable upon knowledge of a complaint concerning a minor. The University of Toledo has a Minors on Campus Policy (Policy 3364-10-17). Please review the policy for additional information.

(4) Amnesty

The Student Conduct Amnesty Policy (Policy 3364-30-03) may apply in certain circumstances. Please review the policy for additional information.

(5) Mandatory reporting

Who must report: Responsible employees are required to immediately report to the Title IX Coordinator incidents of sexual misconduct in University programs and activities of which they are aware. Reports can be filed online at http://www.utoledo.edu/title-ix/

A Responsible employee includes any employee: who has the authority to take action to redress sexual misconduct; who has been given the duty of reporting incidents of sexual misconduct or any other misconduct by students or employees to the Title IX Coordinator or other appropriate school designee; or whom a student or employee could reasonably believe has this authority or duty.

Employees exempt from mandatory reporting: At the University of Toledo, all employees are responsible employees for Title IX purposes, with limited exceptions. These exceptions include the employees of the University Counseling Center, The Center for Student Advocacy and Wellness, and The University of Toledo Psychology Clinic, and Counselor Education. All employees working under their licensure as a counselor, psychologist, psychiatrist, or social worker, and those working for them under their licensure in a clinical or professional setting are exempt from reporting under Title IX. These employees may still be required to report aggregate data for the Clery Act, required information for timely warning notifications, and under the Ohio Revised Code.

This designation is consistent with certain state law requirements, including Ohio Revised Code § 2921.22, which, with certain exceptions, provides that “no person, knowing that a felony has been or is being committed, shall knowingly fail to report such information to law enforcement authorities”.

What must be reported: When making a report of sexual misconduct, responsible employees must report to the Title IX Coordinator the details of the incident of which they are aware. This may include information such as the names of the complainant and respondent; the date, time, and location of the incident; and the nature of the incident, including available facts about what occurred. Responsible employees should not independently investigate, or conduct an inquiry into incidents of sexual misconduct.

(6) The University’s Police Department and Local Law Enforcement

Making reports to law enforcement: The University is committed to working cooperatively with University of Toledo Police Department (UTPD) as well as local law enforcement agencies. Individuals who experience sexual misconduct on University property may choose to make a report to UTPD by calling 419.530.2600. Individuals who experience sexual misconduct off University property may choose to make a report to local law enforcement by calling 911.

The University notes that reports of sexual misconduct made to the UTPD will be shared with the Title IX Coordinator. In turn, the Title IX Coordinator will share with the UTPD information regarding sexual misconduct cases to ensure compliance with the Clery Act, state law, and to maintain a safe campus community.

Coordination with law enforcement: In cases where a complainant makes a simultaneous report to law enforcement, the University will coordinate with law enforcement, as needed, to ensure that law enforcement has a reasonable time to complete its evidence-gathering. The University will promptly resume its investigation after a reasonable time.

Considerations in medical care: Individuals who experience sexual assault are encouraged to seek immediate medical attention. A complainant may wish to request a forensic examination from a Sexual Assault Nurse Examiner (SANE) at the University of Toledo Medical Center or other area hospitals. Complainants who choose to obtain a forensic examination should take a change of clothing, and try not to shower, drink, eat, douche, brush teeth or hair, or change clothes prior to the exam as this may help preserve evidence in the event of a criminal complaint. Free, emergency contraception is available through SANE nurses.
Obtaining protective measures from courts: In addition to the interim measures/accommodations specified below, a complainant may be able to obtain protective measures, such as civil protection orders through the local court. The University is not involved in such proceedings; however, information about interim remedies available through the University are provided below.

(G) Interim Measures/Accommodations. Interim measures/accommodations are available to parties who are involved in reported sexual misconduct cases. Interim measures/accommodations will be coordinated by the Title IX Coordinator or designee, who may consult with other departments. Interim measures may include, but are not limited to, no contact directives, changes to academic, and/or living situations, disciplinary holds, interim sanctions, and other services. For employees, interim measures may include no contact directives, reassignment, leave, modification to the place or manner of performing one’s position, or other actions. The University administers interim measures in a manner that minimizes the burden on the complainant, while taking into account due process considerations with regard to the respondent, and the potential impacts on the University community. For employees working under a collective bargaining agreement, the interim measures and accommodations are done in a manner consistent with the labor agreement.

Participants in an investigation of a complaint under this policy may contact the Title IX Coordinator or designee if they need interim measures or accommodations.

(H) Complaint Investigation and Resolution Procedures

(1) Standard of Review: The University uses the preponderance of the evidence or “more likely than not” standard in the investigation and resolution of complaints of sexual misconduct.

(2) Title IX Coordinator’s evaluation of the report: Within 7 days of receiving a report of alleged sexual misconduct, the Title IX Coordinator or designee will determine if the case falls under the scope of Title IX, and/or if an investigation will take place or if other actions will be taken. If the complainant wishes to proceed with an investigation, and it falls within the scope of this policy, or an investigation is otherwise necessary, the Title IX Coordinator or designee will assign the case to an investigator no later than 7 days after receiving the report of alleged sexual misconduct. In certain circumstances, the Title IX Coordinator or designee may request an external investigator be appointed by the Office of Legal Affairs. This may require an extension of the 7 day assignment of the case. The Title IX Coordinator or designee will document this step of the process in writing. The Title IX Office has the right to determine if a complaint falls under the scope of sexual misconduct. If it is determined that an allegation does not fall under this policy, the Title IX Office shall reassign it to the appropriate office.

(3) Title IX Office’s response: Within 7 days of the assignment of an investigator, the Title IX Coordinator or designee will contact the complainant to schedule an interview. Within this timeframe, the Title IX Coordinator or designee will provide the complainant with written information about the investigatory process, available resources, accommodations, interim measures, and how to raise and resolve concerns about interim measures or conflicts of interest. After the interview with the complainant, the Title IX Coordinator or designee will contact the respondent and witness(es) as appropriate.

The Title IX Coordinator or designee will provide the respondent and witnesses with written information about the investigatory process, available resources, accommodations, interim measures, and how to raise and resolve concerns about interim measures or conflicts of interest.

(a) University-provided email will be the primary means of communication used. Complainants, respondents, and witnesses are advised to regularly check their University-provided email. The University will take appropriate action to address alleged sexual misconduct, including instances where a party does not respond to communication from the University. This may include moving forward with the disciplinary process if it does not receive a response from a party within a reasonable timeframe. Should a party not have university-assigned email, agreement will be made as to the best source of contact for an individual. Preferred contact methods for sharing of documents or information other than in-person interviews are (1) University-assigned email; (2) other email provided by party in writing; (3) telephone call to best available number provided; and, (4) United States Postal Service mail.

(b) As part of the investigation, the Title IX Coordinator or designee will interview witnesses, and review available evidence, as appropriate.

(c) The Title IX Coordinator’s or designee’s investigation generally will be concluded by 60 days after the complaint was received. This timeframe may be extended if necessary.

(d) At the conclusion of the investigation, the Title IX Coordinator or designee will prepare a written investigatory report that summarizes the facts presented during investigation. Based on the facts presented and after review by the Title IX Coordinator, a letter and the redacted investigatory report will be sent concurrently to the appropriate parties in the investigation.

(i) For student respondent cases, the matter will be forwarded to the Office of Student Conduct and Community Standards, for handling under the Student Code of Conduct (Policy 3364-30-04).

(ii) In cases involving a faculty or staff respondent, the complainant and respondent will have simultaneous, timely notice of the redacted investigation report. The report will be shared with the relevant University administrators, and will be forwarded to the appropriate office (Faculty Labor Relations and/or Human Resources).

(4) Adjudication/Resolution: The University generally will conclude the investigation within 60 days of receiving a complaint of sexual misconduct, but reserves the right to extend based on complexity of case and relevant factors to each individual case.

(a) Cases where the respondent is a student: The process set forth in the Student Code of Conduct (Policy 3364-30-04) applies. However, any change in sanction must be provided to complainant and respondent simultaneously.

(b) Cases where the respondent is an employee: The disciplinary process outlined in the applicable collective bargaining agreement or applicable policy will be followed, subject to (e) below.
(i) Regular employee disciplinary policies or procedures provide the procedures that will be followed for disciplinary matters; however, all applicable Title IX requirements outlined in this policy will be followed during any disciplinary process relating to a finding of sexual misconduct. Employee discipline will be pursued, if the administrator with authority over the responsible party(ies) concludes that disciplinary action is necessary. Should a decision not to move forward with disciplinary action be reached, the complainant and respondent will be notified of that decision in writing by the appropriate administrator with a copy provided to the Title IX Coordinator.

(c) Cases where the respondent is a third party: Within 14 days of the conclusion of the investigation, the Title IX Coordinator or designee will review the investigatory report and determine the appropriate outcome. Where the respondent is not a University student or employee, the range of sanctions available to the University may be limited. However, the University may impose sanctions such as restrictions on contact with the complainant on University property and may provide remedies to the complainant (e.g., academic accommodations), as appropriate.

(d) Written notice of the outcome of resolution process: The complainant and respondent will receive written notice of the outcome concurrently after the sanction or discipline is determined by the responsible party.

(e) In the event of an appeal of the sanction, notice of the appeal decision shall be sent concurrently to the complainant, respondent and Title IX Coordinator.

(5) Witnesses and evidence. The parties have an equal opportunity to present relevant witnesses and evidence during the investigation of sexual misconduct complaints.

(6) Procedural Advisor and/or Support Person
   (a) Respondents and complainants may elect to have a procedural advisor and/or support person throughout the Title IX process.
   (b) The procedural advisor can assist the respondent and/or complainant with interview preparations, and provide them with quiet consultation during meetings.
   (c) The support person can provide the respondent and/or complainant with emotional support throughout the Title IX process.
   (d) If the procedural advisor and/or support person becomes disruptive after being warned two times by the investigator, they will be asked to leave.
   (e) Respondents and/or complainants whose procedural advisor is an attorney are required to notify the Title IX Investigator at least five (5) days before the scheduled interview.

(7) Timeframes. The investigation of the complaint generally will be completed within 60 days, absent extenuating circumstances. The Title IX Coordinator, or designee, may provide the parties with updates regarding the status of the case at regular intervals. Updates are available by contacting the appropriate party.

(8) Conflicts of interest and fairness of process. This procedure provides for the prompt, reliable, impartial investigation and adjudication of complaints of sexual misconduct. The parties will receive similar, timely access to information throughout the process. Any concerns regarding real or perceived conflicts of interest regarding the participation of anyone in the process should immediately be brought to the attention of the Title IX Coordinator or designee. If the conflict of interest involves the Title IX Coordinator or designee, the conflict should be brought to the attention of the Vice President of Student Affairs.

(9) Mediation. Mediation will not be used in cases where sexual violence has been alleged, or in cases where the accused is in a position of authority over the accuser. In these cases, a complainant will not be required to work out an issue directly with a respondent, even on a voluntary basis.

(10) Recordkeeping. The University maintains records related to sexual misconduct proceedings in accordance with federal and state law requirements.

(11) Training. The Title IX Coordinator, Investigator(s) Designee(s), Office of Student Conduct and Community Standards Professional Staff, Adjudicator(s), and any administrators with responsibilities under this policy will receive training, on at least an annual basis.

(I) Sanctions and Remedies. The sanctions and remedies that may be imposed or available depend on the nature of the party’s relationship to the University.

(1) Students found responsible for sexual misconduct may be subject to discipline as explained in the Student Code of Conduct (Policy 3364-30-04).

(2) Employees found responsible for sexual misconduct may be subject to discipline as explained in the applicable collective bargaining agreement, University policy, or state law.

The University provides remedies to individuals who experience sexual misconduct and the campus community, as appropriate. Remedies may include educational programming, changes to policies and procedures, counseling, and opportunities to change educational, work, or living situations.

(J) Appeal Process. Both the complainant and respondent will be provided equitable appeal rights, consistent with applicable policy or collective bargaining agreements. Appeals are not available to any party until such time as a decision is reached on responsibility and sanction or discipline is determined, or if the respondent is found not responsible.

For students, the appeal process is set forth in the Student Code of Conduct (Policy 3364-30-04).

For employees, the bases for appeal are set forth in the applicable collective bargaining agreement or policy.

(K) Resources

A list of University and local resources for those who have experienced sexual misconduct is available on the Title IX website and in Section D of this policy.
