1. I would be interested in dental insurance coverage, even if it cost more.
26% Strongly Agree
39% Agree
19% Neutral
10% Disagree
5% Strongly Disagree
Comments: Is the dental insurance optional? What if we already have it? Depends on how much more & details of coverage. Please consider vision insurance as well.

2. I would be willing to serve as a Coast-to-Host host for a prospective student travelling to Toledo.
11% Strongly Agree
31% Agree
30% Neutral
22% Disagree
6% Strongly Disagree
Comments: I have a small apt so not to be rude but if I were a host, the prospective student would be on the couch.

3. Please characterize your attitudes towards yearbooks.
34% I like the current plan - one yearbook per year
50% I like the new plan - I only want one yearbook
16% I don't know / I have no opinion
Comments: I do not want any yearbook - it should not be required. Ideally I would rather not have the yearbook and keep the money that I am required to pay for it. I’m not much of a sentimental type. Let the people that want them buy them instead.

4. Which statement best describes your use of MSC Google Calendar
1% I use it for both events and classes
3% I use it only for events
2% I use it only for classes
2% I have no opinion
91% I do not use it
Comments: I don't know what the google calendar is. I didn't know it existed or where to find it.
5. It would be preferable to have one email each week from Brittani Curtis announcing all the Student Life

Comments: One email per week would be nice, but some events require much more advanced planning than an announcement one week in advance so it would not eliminate individual emails. Daily (single) email from Brittani Curtis. One email per week would be better, but we also need a system of reminders, where you can get notifications, which I suppose could be handled by the Google calendar, but emails are too cumbersome, especially when I get 10-15 per day. Please one central person for the financial aid emails from financial aid department. Way too many emails! One email a week for Brittani will only work if she receives notices with adequate time to put the email to be there. We should be careful of not making her job harder than it already is. We get a lot of e-mails, but you can quickly and easily delete the ones you don’t want. Being able to keep a headline for an event important to you in your inbox helps remind you of it every time you check your inbox, which I find helpful. In a newsletter, you would have to wade through the entire issue each time to find what you were looking for and it would not serve as a reminder.

6. WebSP (the computer program used in PBL) is a valuable educational tool.

Comments: It's good when it works properly! WebSP has potential, but seems to always have issues making it not so great. We haven't used WebSP yet this year. Program could be good, but its awkward and doesn't always work at the moment. We don't know the tests to use because of our lack of knowledge. Paper format is easier. I cannot strongly disagree enough. WebSP is nowhere near as good as one student having the file, reading through it, and playing the part of the patient. PBL is an inefficient use of time due to the computer system!
