

Banned Books Week Speakers List [Speak! Read! Know!]

Date: Thursday, October 1, 2009
Where: Second Floor of Sullivan Hall [Honor's Building]

- 9 a.m. Dr. Jim Benjamin and Dr. Marcia Suter, Welcome and Greetings
- 9:30 a.m. Dr. Douglas Oliver, Radical Islamists and Fear of Radical Islamists – Both are Significant Threats to Free Speech, any time
- 10 a.m. Dr. Larry J. Connin, "When Censorship Goes Soft: The Case of Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn and the Publication of 'One Day in the Life of Ivan Denisovich.'"
- 10:30 a.m. Warren Woodbury, "We Are Strangers"
- 11 a.m. Paul Many, "1984: from Orwell to Amazon"
- 11:30 a.m. Dr. K and the IC Players
- Noon Keynote: Larry Wilcox, "Book Burning in Nazi Germany"
- 1 p.m. Ben Pryor, "Censorship, Dissent & Etiquette"
- 1:30 p.m. Elaine Reeves, "Remembering Judith Krug: Librarian and Founder of Banned Books Week."
- 2 p.m. David Tucker, "Indecency in Broadcasting: Why Bother?"
- 2:30 p.m. Carter Wilson
- 3:00 p.m. Jeopardy
- 3:30 p.m. Tom Barden, "Censoring Bob Dylan in the Sixties."
- 4 p.m. Renee Heberle, "Feminism Does Not Equal Censorship: Toward a Feminist Politics of Representation"
- 4:30 p.m. Sharon Barnes, "Homosexuality in Children's Books"
- 5 p.m. Glenn Sheldon, Original Poem for the Event:
"The Story of Giles Corey: Original Poem by Glenn Sheldon."

Students, faculty, staff, and community members will gather in Sullivan Hall (The Honors Program building) on Thursday, October 1 to celebrate the right to read and think freely as part of the American Library Association Banned Books Week.

Every half hour, a new presentation will start, and we will give out door prizes.

Please consider bringing your classes to sessions or giving students extra credit for attending. We will sign attendance slips for them.