PRESIDENTIAL SEARCH FORUM

HEALTH SCIENCE CAMPUS
AFTERNOON SESSION

MR. BUNN: -- transcripts to help facilitate the presidential search process as we get started and actually the search committee, which you can still hear, will meet for the next few times tomorrow morning. And one of the things that, from my perspective, the reason, I have a microphone, it’s because I don’t think you or I may hear, that we really want to be as transparent and inclusive in this process as possible. So we are going to record all of the sessions, and there are four hours of this first session. And they’re doing their best not to identify people, so they’re trying not having a video camera, but we want to make sure that we get everything correctly documented and yet we’re able to share with the search committee and the board at the end of the day they have an opportunity transparent their opinion, that there’s a board and there’s -- that sort of work is being done. So please don’t feel uncomfortable there will be no names or anything related to that. And she’s why I’m finding this, and they have a session where we can talk in small groups and, my colleagues in you to talk into the microphone and we can hear the questions. And then in the next few days, we’ll transcription, the session. We’re going to post on our presidential website or people who wanted and need to do it. If they want. And then, of course, share it with the search committee. And so, if you’re here for this morning to try to target as much feedback from folks as you think the next president of UT, what maybe experience they come from, what, when, when they think it is, they need to be in their professional expertise, maybe even more personally, I have a strong feeling about that, that we can adequately report faculty, staff, students and alumni’s opinion on the next leader of our institution. And so, like the first thing that the board did was have a great search for and Dennis --

MR. BURK: Right. Dennis is the person that has site-driven, and we’ll get a lot, not today and much more experienced in Texas to find out from important people what kind of characteristics that we’re interested in. And -- -- applying to this. We have a little break, but it’s really important, than you, just want to have a conversation about what you think. I’ve worked at UT for 24 years. I have 18 years on the main campus and eight years as chief of staff. So I’ve worked for four, new president in that role, including [inaudible] and I have a little bit of experience in all of these, particularly on the main campus. So I don’t know if you want to add anything, Dennis, before we get started.

MR. WARD: The only thing I would add is in addition to that, the description of the ideal candidate, we have this question. What do you think, what you think, what you think, what you think, what you think, what you think, what you think, what you think, what you think, what you think, what you think, what you think, what you think, what you think, what you think, what you think, what you think, what you think, what you think, what you think, what you think, what you think, what you think, what you think, what you think, what you think, what you think, what you think.
