The Construction Financial Management Association (CFMA) is the only nonprofit organization dedicated to serving the financial professional in the construction industry. CFMA has developed a network of members across the country that provides the only source of education and information about the unique aspects of construction financial management. CFMA has a national membership of 7,000 and a local membership of approximately 70 including both General Members and Associate Members.

Over the last Twenty years the CFMA Northwest Ohio Chapter has contributed more than $400,000 for scholarships at Bowling Green State University and The University of Toledo. Won't you join us for this worthy cause!
