Administration of Programs

All graduate programs in the College of Nursing are administered jointly by the college and the College of Graduate Studies of The University of Toledo. Students may contact specific departments, the college's graduate advisor, or the College of Graduate Studies for further information on programs or admission requirements.

Advising

Students must meet with their advisor for the purpose of developing a plan of study. It is the student's responsibility to meet all requirements for the degree as specified by the graduate program, the department, the College of Graduate Studies and the University of Toledo. Students are encouraged to complete the plan of study during the first semester of matriculation.

Please note that students matriculate into a specific program track in the MSN and DNP programs, and are allowed to take the courses within their program of study. If they want to take other courses outside of their approved program track they would need permission of course faculty, program directors and advisor. Permission is not guaranteed. In addition, students must apply to a Graduate Nurse program unless otherwise specified, and be accepted into a specific program in order to take CON Nursing graduate courses. They are not available to non-degree seeking guest students.

Doctor of Nursing Practice: (post baccalaureate, BSN-DNP)

The Doctor of Nursing Practice (DNP) program at The University of Toledo (UT) is designed to take BSN prepared nurses to the highest level of clinical practice in order to meet the increasing complexities and challenges of the nation's healthcare environment. As a DNP student at The University of Toledo you will learn how to:

- Translate and implement nursing research into evidence based practice to provide the best possible outcomes for your population of interest
- Work as an advanced practice nurse in a variety of community and hospital-based practice settings
- Develop the leadership and organizational expertise to effectively enact the policies and procedures necessary to meet the dynamic state of healthcare delivery
- Identify approaches for quality management and performance improvement in health care organizations

The DNP curriculum includes theoretical and clinical courses to prepare students to lead and develop innovative health care delivery in a variety of health care settings. In accordance with AACN specifications for 1000 academically supervised post-BSN clinical hours to earn a DNP degree, 1060-1150 hours of academically supervised advanced clinical practice are included in the program.

Master of Science in Nursing: Clinical Nurse Leader Graduate Entry

The Clinical Nurse Leader Graduate Entry (CNL) major is a two-year, full-time course of study. The program is designed for the person who holds a bachelor's degree, who is not yet a registered nurse (RN), but who desires to become a RN. The curriculum includes theory classes prepared by the graduate faculty of the University of Toledo College of Nursing, as well as clinical experiences with patients in state-of-the-art health care facilities. The master's preparation positions graduates for immediate entry into exciting positions in hospitals or clinics, and also provides an opportunity to continue graduate study. Graduates may elect to pursue a certificate to enter advanced practice roles as a nurse practitioner or clinical nurse specialist, or they may decide to pursue a Doctor of Nursing Practice (DNP) degree or the Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) degree.

Master of Science in Nursing: BSN to Clinical Nurse Leader

The BSN to Clinical Nurse Leader (CNL) major at The University of Toledo is ideal for BSN prepared nurses wishing to pursue graduate study at the generalist level. The curriculum includes theory classes, as well as clinical experiences. The Clinical Nurse Leader role is designed to improve the quality of patient care and to better prepare nurses to thrive in the health care system. The CNL oversees the care coordination of a distinct group of patients and actively provides direct patient care. The CNL is a leader in the health care delivery system, and the implementation of the role will vary across settings (www.aacn.nche.edu). Students in the BSN to CNL major move through the curriculum in cohorts.

Graduate Certificate: Nursing Education

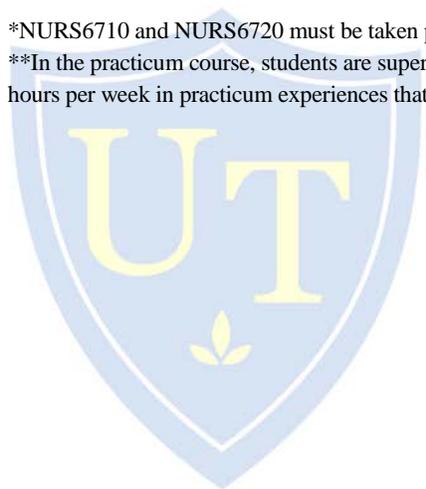

The knowledge and application of the principles of teaching and learning, program development, assessment, and the evaluation of learners is paramount for the role of the nurse as educator. All classes are conducted online.

The Nursing Education Certificate Program at The University of Toledo is designed to provide an opportunity for current and potential nurse educators in academic and healthcare settings to develop and refine the practice of teaching. Graduates of the program receive a certificate acknowledging successful completion of advanced preparation. This certificate depicts a commitment to the professional responsibility as an educator in a variety of healthcare settings.
