MISSION STATEMENT

The University of Toledo Police Department is a professional police agency dedicated to providing excellence in service and safety while promoting a rich educational experience.

VISION STATEMENT

The vision of The University of Toledo Police Department is to become a formative leader and innovator in campus safety and law enforcement.
The University of Toledo Police Department (UTPD) had an exciting year in 2014 as we experienced many changes in both personnel and operations. We had several retirements, hired new officers, promoted both a Sergeant and Lieutenant, and even welcomed a new canine to our UTPD team.

In 2014, UTPD placed a strong emphasis on proactive strategies in an effort to help us move from reactionary policing to proactive policing. One of our key strategies was to enhance our engagement with the campus community through our Community Oriented Policing (COP) efforts. UTPD offered more education and outreach opportunities in residence halls and worked with many student organizations to increase safety awareness and education. We also worked closely with many academic units and clinical areas to discuss safety initiatives in those respective areas. Another key strategy was our partnership with the Ohio Department of Public Safety and Ohio Homeland Security to obtain an explosives detection canine. The canine – named ‘Quinty’ – joined the UTPD team in October and underwent training with his handler, Officer Kevin Zimmerman. Since joining our team, ‘Quinty’ has been utilized to provide pre-event explosives sweeps prior to many athletic events; VIP visits; in addition to other key events on campus in our efforts to improve our proactive measures in keeping the campus community safe.

Imperative to our police operations, a consistent focus is continually placed in our departmental culture as it relates to providing training, education, and deploying resources as necessary in our efforts to perform as a highly professional police organization. Officer safety remains paramount in any police organization and recognizing as such, it is most important that our officers are adequately equipped so as to carry out their jobs in a safe and effective manner. Our supervisors at each level of the organization have made it a priority to provide leadership though service and mentoring. This has been carried out by means of supervisors working one on one with each officer to set goals; discuss roadblocks that inhibit performance; and provide for a supportive environment that allows for increased job performance, resulting in increased job satisfaction. Increasing performance and satisfaction provides for an environment in which we may focus our attention on building positive relationships with those that are a part of our campus community family.

Within police operations we are constantly striving to build a progressive law enforcement agency while placing an emphasis on current trends and best practices in the higher education environment. UTPD is committed to a police force that embraces service over self and through partnerships with our campus community, may result in a safe environment to live, study, work, visit patients, and enjoy special events. UTPD’s officers are some of the best equipped and trained officers in the area; however, challenges and barriers do arise at times. Although challenges and barriers may arise, I am optimistic that through positive partnerships with the community a reduction in crime will continue to result. Thank you for allowing us the opportunity to serve you and best wishes for a safe year in 2015!

The University of Toledo
Police Accomplishments

K-9 Explosives Unit Returns to UTPD:
In November 2014 Quinty, a male Belgian Malinois, began patrolling the UT campus alongside his handler, University Law Enforcement Officer (ULEO) Kevin Zimmerman. A 15-year veteran of the University of Toledo Police Department, Officer Zimmerman spent five weeks in October and early November training with canine Quinty in Columbus. While his primary duty is on the UT campus, Quinty is available to assist local law enforcement if called upon.

Ohio Homeland Security created the program earlier this year to aid in response to potential bomb threats at Ohio universities and their surrounding communities. Federal grants and budget funds through OHS cover the expense of the purchase, training, veterinarian bills and other equipment necessary for the program’s success.

Overview:
The UTPD Communications Center is the hub of all communications pertaining to public safety. When a person activates an emergency Code Blue telephone or calls extension 2600, a police dispatcher will answer and assist. Dispatchers are well trained and certified in the use of the county-wide 911 computer aided dispatch system, as well as accessing a number of local, state and national law enforcement databases.
The University of Toledo
Police Investigations

Overview:
Police Investigations is comprised of two full-time detectives who are responsible for investigating serious crimes on campus. These detectives work closely with other area law enforcement agencies, including the Northwest Ohio Joint Terrorism Task Force; the U.S. Secret Service; the Federal Bureau of Investigation; in addition to State and Local law enforcement agencies in the Northwest Ohio and Southeast Michigan areas.

The University of Toledo
Police Field Operations

Overview:
Police Field Operations provides 24-hour uniformed police services to all three campuses and represents the core of The University of Toledo Police Department’s mission. The UTPD serves a daily population of more than 31,000 students, faculty, staff, employees, patients and visitors, making UTPD one of the most active police departments in northwest Ohio.

All UT police officers are sworn State of Ohio Peace Officers commissioned by the Ohio Peace Officer Training Academy. UT police officers are the primary responders to all police calls for service on all three campuses and have full authority to take action on any observed violation off campus. It is not uncommon to see university officers enforcing laws both on and off campus, committed to making UT a safer community for everyone.

Mountain Bike Patrol:
In an effort to help police officers patrol portions of campus not easily accessible by a motor vehicle, UTPD started one of the region’s first mountain bike units in 1991. The bicycles afford officers the ability to approach a scene in a much more discrete manner than if they were in a patrol vehicle.

Officers on bicycle have also proven to be more approachable than their counterparts in vehicles. In addition to daily routine patrol, the mountain bike unit is also used during special events such as football games. During such cases the bicycles offer the option of a rapid police response when the size of the crowds would usually prohibit use of a motor vehicle.

Mutual Aid and Public Safety Partnerships:
The UTPD maintains strong partnerships with local, state and federal public safety agencies. By virtue of concurrent jurisdiction and in some cases shared jurisdiction, a close working relationship is in place with the Toledo Police Department, Toledo Fire, Ottawa Hills Police Department, the Lucas County Sheriff’s Office, the Ohio State Highway Patrol, and the Federal Bureau of Investigation. The UTPD is an active member of several important public safety collaborations including: The Metro Toledo Criminal Justice Administrators, State University Law Enforcement Administrators, the Lucas County OVI Task Force, Toledo Metro Drug Task Force and the Northwest Ohio Joint Terrorism Task Force, Lucas County Sexual Assault Task Force, & Lucas County Human Trafficking Task Force. Mutual aide agreements include: Regional Law Enforcement Mutual Aid Agreement and the Mutual Aid Agreement among participating Ohio Universities.

Police Analysis & Statistics

Overview:
The Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act was signed into law in 1990 as ‘The Campus Security Act’. The law requires institutions of higher education that receive federal financial aid dollars to keep and disclose information about crime on and near their campus. The University of Toledo has been effective at suppressing crime and maintaining a safe environment for the campus community. When compared to other public institutions with student populations over 15,000 students UT maintains a lower rate of both violent and property crimes than the national average. (Source: Bureau of Justice Statistics, survey of campus law enforcement agencies).

The University of Toledo
C.O.P. Education and Outreach

Overview:
UTPD officers are active in Community Oriented Policing (COP), a philosophy promoting partnerships between law enforcement and the community served. Officers are assigned to specific areas of responsibility such as Parks Tower residence hall or the Student Recreation Center, and spend time becoming familiar with the students and staff and the unique challenges found in the area. Relationships are developed and the officer is viewed as a resource and educator on safe habits and practices. Officers attend meetings with students and staff and help develop solutions to problems. Programming such as theft prevention methods, alcohol/drug awareness and sexual assault prevention are also provided through community policing.

Rocket Watch:
Rocket Watch is a community based crime prevention program for the students, faculty and staff of the University of Toledo modeled after the very successful block watch program utilized across the country. The program was personalized to meet the specific needs of our campus community.

Not On My Watch:
Each year during Crime Prevention month, the Division of Student Affairs, The Anti-Bullying Task Force, and the University of Toledo Police Department partner throughout the month to offer students activities and programs that will encourage them to be active participants in their safety.
Rape Aggression Defense (RAD) Program:
The RAD System is a program of realistic, self-defense tactics and techniques for women only. It is a comprehensive course that begins with awareness, prevention, risk reduction and avoidance, while progressing on to the basics of hands-on defense training. RAD is dedicated to teaching women defensive concepts and techniques against various types of assault, by utilizing easy, effective and proven self-defense/martial arts tactics. The system of realistic defense will provide a woman with the knowledge to make an educated decision about resistance.

A.L.i.C.E
Alert Lockdown Inform Evacuate:
The UTPD employs an active shooter and violent intruder presentation known as A.L.i.C.E. The objective of A.L.i.C.E. is to teach the student how to be a participant in his/her own survival and lead others to safety. The A.L.i.C.E. Program provides mental and physical tools that could play a vital role in survival to those who find themselves in a potentially life threatening situation.

Healthy Boundaries:
This program provides a safe place to talk about relationships and to learn and practice healthy relationship skills. Participants learn that healthy relationships are based on equality and mutual respect. In a healthy relationship, each person can experience personal growth and the intimacy of healthy connectedness. The power in a healthy relationship is balanced. Healthy relationships happen when we actively respect each other’s rights. Participants realize that while conflict is inevitable in relationships, fear, threats and violence are not. Healthy relationships have numerous benefits, including better morale, attendance, and grades.
