- Accept or reject any or all Proposals, or any part thereof, or to withhold the award and to waive, or decline to waive, irregularities, informalities, and technicalities in any Proposal when determined that it is in its best interest to do so.

Respondents submit Proposals at their own risk and expense.

4.4 Resulting Contract(s):

Please advise if your company has an interest in extending your offer to the Inter-University Council of Ohio's Purchasing Group (IUC-PG) membership. This is a courtesy request, and there is no obligation to agree to it. It is not part of the University's selection criteria. Should you choose to extend usage, participation in the contract by other IUC-PG members is strictly voluntary on their part, and the University's sole role and responsibility would be to share the contents of the contract with them. A Contract Administrative Fee (CAF) may be applied to any offer adopted by the IUC-PG or its individual member institutions.

In no way must any decision by your company to extend the contract to the IUC-PG members negatively affect the delivery capability, general service level, prices, discounts, product availability or other contractual obligations to the University.

Please indicate in your response package if your company agrees to extend any resulting contracts to include other IUC-PG members who may have an interest in utilizing it and describe any regional or geographic limitations.

Any request will be reasonable in quantity, as deemed by the University, so as not to cause any undue financial burden to the supplier. The cost of providing samples will be the responsibility of the Supplier. Retention of samples may be required as a quality standard for future shipments. Samples may be returned to the Supplier, at the Supplier's expense, upon request.

4.6 Signed contract within a reasonable time:

If an award of a contract is made, the respondent must sign the contract within a reasonable time of the announcement of the award. Failure to do so is grounds for rejecting the offer.

In the event the University discovers after it has awarded the bid that any part of the proposal upon which it relied was fraudulent, grossly inadequate, or intentionally misleading, the University may at its option upon presentation to the Respondent of evidence of fraud, gross inaccuracy, or intentional misleading statements in the proposal terminate the awarded Agreement and seek other legal redress as is proper.

Campus Map

A University of Toledo Map of all locations can be found on the University's website via the following link: <https://www.utoledo.edu/campus/directions/>

5.2 Project Overview:

THE UNIVERSITY OF TOLEDO (UToledo) or THE UNIVERSITY OF TOLEDO MEDICAL CENTER (UTMC), located in Toledo, Ohio, is accepting competitive sealed proposals from qualified companies for an Electric Provider with extensive experience in the electric provider field. The University of Toledo is a State of Ohio funded public academic institution.

The information provided herein is intended to assist suppliers in responding properly to this Request for Proposal. The University believes this RFP provides interested suppliers with sufficient information to submit proposals that meet minimum requirements. It is not intended to limit a proposal's content or to exclude any relevant or essential data. Suppliers are encouraged to include additional information that will substantiate their product quality and service capabilities.

5.3 Scope of Service/Project Information:

Upon award, the vendor will provide retail electric service to all UToledo facilities listed for one, one and a half, two, or three years.

5.4 Technical Specifications: Purchase of Power

The University of Toledo ("University") hereby issues this Request for Proposals ("RFP") to suppliers of power (both energy and capacity). The RFP is to provide the full power or power to the large meter requirements for our University campuses. Suppliers may respond in the alternative to supply the University, which is currently using the First Energy Company's distribution system in Northwest Ohio. The university reserves the right to determine if we will award for "all" or a "portion" of the university's electrical provider needs

If the University accepts an offer from this RFP, the University shall enter into a binding agreement with the Respondent to implement the principal terms of the RFP. If the parties cannot agree upon a final contract within a reasonable amount of time, the University may revoke its acceptance of the proposal.

Respondent is to assemble the information necessary to submit the request to First Energy to commence service on May 1, 2026, including a timely notice to waive the rate stabilization charges.

1. The Proposal must be to exclusively supply all the energy, capacity, transmission, and auxiliary services to The University, not otherwise supplied by First Energy on a firm basis, excused only by a properly claimed and documented event of force majeure.
2. Proposals shall include a narrative in which the Respondent describes their company, including the years it has been in business, its principals, its experience in facilitating energy contracts, as well as at least a paragraph detailing how it intends to meet the University's power demand should it be awarded the contract.

3. The proposal should provide the names, phone numbers, and email addresses of a minimum of three (3) customer references of a similar size and nature as the University. The University may contact the customer references to discuss the adequacy of the Respondent's performance on similar agreements.
4. Financial and Operational Wherewithal – The Respondent shall submit documentation (e.g., annual reports, 10-K's, audited financial statements) or other evidence to show that it has the financial wherewithal to perform the proposal. In addition, please indicate in the Proposal: a) if the Respondent is currently a load serving entity with the Midwest Independent Operator System ("MISO"); b) if the Respondent currently is certificated by the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio as a competitive retail electric service provider ("CRES"); and c) if the Respondent is currently supplying power as a CRES to a customer(s) of any FirstEnergy Corp. operating companies. A supplier may respond without CRES certification, but the successful respondent must be certificated as a CRES by the Public Utilities Commission and be registered to conduct retail sales on the FirstEnergy system.
5. The Proposal shall describe in detail how the Universities will pay for power, detailing the major cost components. The Proposal price shall be quoted so as to include all line losses, balancing fees, transmission fees, auxiliary fees or costs (including taxes) of any and all types levied or imposed prior to delivery to First Energy for distribution to the Universities.
6. The Proposal shall be for a term commencing May 1, 2026, and will continue one, one and a half, two, or three years. Thereafter, there will be various options to renew.

Point of Delivery ("Delivery Point") - The Delivery Point for power shall be the interconnection with First Energy for distribution to The University (including the satellite facility) or both. The Respondent shall have full responsibility for arranging and delivering power to First Energy on a clock hour basis or as called for by MISO or First Energy under the applicable rules and tariffs. All expenses, fees, fines, or costs associated with delivery and balancing (both transmission and distribution) shall be paid by the Respondent and included in the Proposal price. The Universities shall pay all distribution charges from First Energy and the Ohio kWh tax.

7. Separate files are included with this RFP detailing the peak & hourly demands of the University on a clock hour basis for a past twelve-month period as recorded on the University's meter reading devices. The information is provided to assist the respondents, but the University does not warrant the accuracy of the information, and it should be understood by the respondents that the electricity demand of the University is greatly influenced by the weather. Thus, it is highly unlikely that the demand by the University individually or as aggregated will be identical to the historic period.

It is quite likely that during the term of the supply agreement, the University shall add buildings and modify the current cooling and heating equipment. Such potential changes in demand for power should be incorporated in the proposal, and general information can be requested via the question process.

The University has meters, which can be read by telemetry. The winning respondent will have the opportunity to receive such telemetry readings, though it is possible that the official meter readings conducted by First Energy may vary from the university's telemetry meter data.

8. The Respondent shall list any exceptions or deviations from these specifications upon which their RFP is contingent and all other factors relevant to any contract arising from this solicitation.
9. The Respondent shall provide a sample contract that it would advise be used as a prototype to implement the proposal.
10. The Respondent shall provide, as part of the RFP, a description of how billing is going to be conducted. The University is willing to accept either consolidated billing by the utility or consolidated billing by the Respondent. Dual billing may be by the University, depending on the adequacy of the arrangements. If a bidder desires to do consolidated billing (as opposed to letting First Energy incorporate the Respondent's invoice), such Respondent must provide a mock monthly billing statement as part of its proposal.
11. As part of the contracting process, the University may require a suitable performance bond. The final contract shall also contain insurance and liability provisions. Such provisions shall be designed to place upon the supplier financial and legal responsibility for the delivery of the required amounts of power to the point of delivery, while legal and financial responsibility for power after the point of delivery remains with the University.

SECTION 6: THE UNIVERSITY OF TOLEDO STANDARD CONTRACT CLAUSES

The following is the list of standard contract clauses that will govern the contractual obligations of each party, either from the issuance of a purchase order or the completion of an executed agreement. It is not necessary to redline these clauses as part of the submission process. The Contract will remain in effect until the earliest of: (1) the ending date stated in the Contract; (2) the Contract is fully performed by both parties; or (3) the Contract is canceled, suspended or terminated.

These Terms and Conditions supersede any other terms and conditions submitted by Contractor in any proposal, acknowledgment or click-through agreement, unless specifically agreed to in writing by the University.
3. Changes and Completeness. No substitutions, alterations, or additions to the Products or Services are permitted without the advance written consent of the University. The University reserves the right to return Products at Contractor’s expense if the Products are billed at a higher price than specified or the Products are non-conforming, unless prior written approval for the modification has been obtained by Contractor from the University. Each shipping container shall be clearly marked with (a) Contractor name and address; (b) University name, address, and Contract; (c) container number, total number of containers; and (d) identification of container bearing packing slip. Unless otherwise stated in the Contract, Contractor will be responsible for all freight charges.
6. Rights of Inspection/Rejection. All Products will be received subject to the University's right of inspection and rejection of non-conforming or defective goods. Those Products rejected because of inspection will be held for Contractor's inspection at Contractor's risk and, if Contractor directs, will be returned at Contractor's expense. Freight to and from the original destination is the Contractor's responsibility.
7. Contract Remedies.
- A. Actual Damages. Contractor is liable to the University for all actual and direct damage caused by Contractor's default. The University may self-perform or buy substitute Deliverables from a third party for those that were to be provided by the Contractor. The University may recover the costs associated with acquiring substitute Deliverables, less any expenses or costs avoided by Contractor's default.
 - B. Liquidated Damages. If actual and direct damages are uncertain or difficult to determine, the University may recover liquidated damages. Unless otherwise specified, liquidated damages will be in the amount of 1% of the value of the order, Deliverable, or milestone that is the subject of the default, for every day that the default is not cured by the Contractor.

8. Data and Information Control

- A. Confidentiality. Contractor agrees to hold in strict confidence and will not disclose any Data obtained by the Contractor as a result of the Contract, without the written permission of the University. Contractor must assume that all University information, documents, data, source codes, software, models, know-how, trade secrets, or other material is confidential. Contractor shall not use or disclose Data received from or on behalf of University except as required by law, or as otherwise authorized in writing by University. Similarly, Contractor agrees that any and all Data exchanged shall be used expressly and solely for the purposes enumerated in the Agreement. Data shall not be distributed, repurposed or shared across other applications, environments, or business units of Contractor, or passed to other vendors or interested parties except on a case-by-case basis as specifically agreed to in writing by University.

The Contractor must return all originals of any Data provided by the University and destroy any copies the Contractor has made on termination or expiration of this Contract. The Contractor will be liable for the disclosure of any confidential information. The parties agree that the disclosure of confidential information of the University may cause the University irreparable damage for which remedies other than injunctive relief may be inadequate, and the Contractor agrees that in the event of a breach of the obligations hereunder, the University shall be entitled to temporary and permanent injunctive relief to enforce this provision without the necessity of proving actual damages. This provision shall not, however, diminish or alter any right to claim and recover damages.

- B. Security & Safety Rules. When using or possessing Data provided by the University or accessing University networks and systems, Contractor, its employees, subcontractors, and agents must comply with all applicable federal, state, and local laws as well as University rules, policies, and regulations regarding University-provided IT resources, data security, and integrity.
