

Technology Takes the Wheel

2019 SEMINARS ON AUTONOMOUS VEHICLES

Please join us for a free, educational session exploring autonomous vehicles and their societal impacts. Co-sponsored by The University of Toledo's College of Engineering and AAA Northwest Ohio, this event will address how autonomous vehicles impact the engineering world, as well as the world at-large.

Auto Manufacturers – On the Forefront of the Autonomous Vehicle Revolution Wednesday, April 17, 2019 | 8:30 – 10:30 a.m.

Nitschke Auditorium on UToledo's Main Campus (1600 N. Westwood Ave.), with continental breakfast served at 8 a.m. on Nitschke Hall's first floor.

Guest speakers

- Lissa Guyton, Emcee, 13abc
- Emily Frascaroli, Managing Counsel,
Ford Motor Company
- Tina Sayer, Principal Engineer,
Toyota Collaborative Safety Research Center

Register for the seminar online:

utoledo.edu/engineering/techtakesthewheel.html

This series is free and open to the public.

*Co-sponsored by
The University of Toledo College of Engineering and AAA Northwest Ohio*

COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING
THE UNIVERSITY OF TOLEDO

Two continuing professional development credits available upon completion.