Nursing Students and Students on Internship or Studying Abroad

UT Internships and Study Abroad Students

Students who receive UT scholarships must notify the Scholarship Services Office of their internships and/or study abroad plans so that their scholarship can be shifted to a different term if necessary. These must be official UT approved internships/study abroad programs. To notify the Scholarship Services Office of an internship, students must request a confirmation email to be sent from their academic advisor or the office approving their internship/study abroad program to the Scholarship Services Office at financialaidscholarship@utoledo.edu.

Interning Students and Nursing Students (CON)

Students wishing to use their scholarship for summer enrollment must complete a summer aid application (available in late March/early April in their myUT account). If you are filing a FAFSA, it must be completed and accepted before your summer aid application can be processed. In addition, if you are selected for verification, your verification must be complete before your summer aid application can be processed. Most scholarships require full-time enrollment and will be counted as a term of scholarship eligibility.

Students accepted into the Nursing professional division must contact the Scholarship Services Office at financialaidscholarship@utoledo.edu if they will not have continuous enrollment in the academic year.
