

CONTENTS

Contributors	11
Abbreviations	13
Introduction (by A. Lengyel and G. T. B. Radan)	17
Ferenc Fülep:	33
Pannonia research in Hungary
Limes research	34
Brigetio (Szőny) [34] Castra ad Herculem (Pilismarót) [36] Ulcisia Castra (Szentendre) [36] Aquincum (Budapest III) [37] Albertfalva (Budapest) [39] Campona (Budapest) [39] Vetus Salina (Adony) [40] Intercisa (Dunapentele-Dunaújváros) [41] Lugio (Dunaszekcső) [42]
City research	43
Scarbantia (Sopron) [43] Savaria (Szombathely) [43] Gorsium (Tác) [44] Keszthely-Fenekpuszta [46] Tricciana (Ságvár) [47] Sopianae (Pécs) [47]
Aspects of the future	50
Notes	51
Literature	52
Sándor Soproni:
Geography of Pannonia	57
Mountains	59
River network	60
Lakes and swamps	61
Agriculture and natural resources	62
Notes	62
Otto Trogmayer:
Pannonia before the Roman conquest	65
Paleolithic Age	65
Buda industry [65] Moustier culture [65] Szeleta culture [66] Pilisszántó culture [66] Eastern Gravettian culture [66]
Neolithic and Copper Age	68
Linear pottery culture [68] Lengyel culture [69] The

Balaton group [69] The Boleraz group [70] Classical period of the Pécel (Baden) culture [71]
Bronze Age	72
The Zók culture [72] The Somogyvár-Vinkovci culture [73] The Bell-Beaker culture [73] Problem of the "Litzenkeramik" [74] The Gáta group [74] The Nagyrév culture [74] The Tokod group [75] The Kisapostag culture [75] Encrusted pottery culture of Pannonia [76] The Ványa culture [77] Hoard level of Koszider [78] The tumulus culture [78] The urnfield culture [79]
Early Iron Age	80
Late Iron Age	81
Notes	82
László Barkóczi:
History of Pannonia	85
History of territory prior to Roman occupation	86
The Roman occupation of Pannonia and the Flavians	90
The period of Trajan, Hadrian, and Antoninus Pius	93
The wars of the Marcomannians, Quadians and Iazyges under Marcus Aurelius	96
Civitates , town foundations, and citizenship from the occupation of Pannonia until the age of Marcus Aurelius	99
The age of the Severans	100
Military emperors	103
The situation in the province in the period between Marcus Aurelius and Diocletian	106
Diocletian and the tetrarchy period	109
The period of the Constantinian dynasty	110
The general situation in Pannonia during the Constantinian dynasty	113
The age of Valentinian	115
Pannonia after Valentinian	116
Notes	120
Jenő Fitz:
Administration and army	125
Notes	139
Jenő Fitz:
Population	141
The indigenous population	141
The emergence of towns	142
Municipal life	147
The territorium of the cities	149

The concilium provinciae	150
After the Marcomannic wars	151
The last century	154
Notes	157
Jenő Fitz:
The way of life	161
Notes	174
Edit B. Thomas:
Religion	177
Native and "classical" gods	177
Oriental cults	185
Christianity	193
Notes	204
Sándor Soproni:
Roads	207
Itineraria	213
Notes	216
Sándor Soproni:
Limes	219
History	219
Structure	227
Notes	237
Klára Póczy:
Pannonian cities	239
Urbanization	240
City formations	247
Network of Pannonian cities	251
Results of archaeological investigation	254
Andautonia [255] Aquincum [255] Bassiana [258] Brigetio [258] Carnuntum [259] Cibalae [260] Emona [260] Municipium Faustinianum [261] Gorsium [261] Municipium Iasorum and Iovia [262] Mogentiana [262] Mursa [262] Mursella I and Mursella II [262] Neviodunum [262] Poetovio [263] Sala [264] Savaria [264] Scarbantia [266] Sirmium [267] Siscia [268] Sopianae [268] Vindobona [269] Municipium Volg... [269]
Notes	269
Edit B. Thomas:
Villa settlements	275
Concept of the villa romana	276

Geographical preconditions of the villa settlements	284
Types of villa plans	288
Technology and structures of buildings	300
Interior decoration	306
Wall paintings in fresco and secco techniques	307
Stucco decorations	308
Mosaics	311
Functions of late Roman villas	312
Fortification and self-sufficiency	312
Survival of the Roman villa system	317
Notes	321
Jenő Fitz:
Economic life	323
Agriculture	323
Mining	325
Workshops	325
Trade	329
Money circulation	332
Notes	334
Katalin Biró-Sey:
Currency	337
Before the Roman conquest	338
Roman denarii and Eraviscan imitations	339
Up to the Marcomannic wars	340
From Septimius Severus to Gallienus	341
Inflation and reform	343
Economic upheaval	343
Mints	344
Notes	346
Edit B. Thomas:
Arts and crafts	349
Early imperial period	349
Late imperial period	353
Notes	354
Éva B. Bónis:
Pottery	357
Origin of the potter's craft and early pottery	357
Potters' settlements and kilns	362
Pottery in the late imperial period	365
Lucernae	367
Earthen lighthouses, tower models	368
Terra-cottas and crustulum molds	368

Chronological catalog	369
Notes	378
Edit B. Thomas:
Glassware	381
Notes	383
Edit B. Thomas:
Armor	385
Helmets	385
Bronze helmets with reliefs	385
Crested iron helmets with plate coverings	387
Shield-bosses	390
Daggers	394
Notes	396
Ágnes Salamon and Ágnes Cs. Sós:
Pannonia – Fifth to ninth centuries	397
The Huns	397
The Ostrogoths	400
The Longobards	404
The Avars	406
Carolingian Pannonia	416
The Franks [416] The Slavs [417]
Notes	420
Appendix
427
Imre Lengyel:
New methods and results in paleoanthropology employed in Pannonian research	429
Introduction	429
Methodology: preliminaries	430
Weight loss by cremation as a result of the evaporation of the water content of excavated bones [431] Interrelation between the weight loss by cremation of excavated bones and the quantity of their organic constituents [431] The organic content of the bones [432] Examination of inorganic materials in excavated bone tissue [433] Histological examination of excavated bone tissue [434] Investigation of bone tissue's fluoride content [434] Theoretical bases of the complex method [435]
Notes	438

Imre Lengyel:
Laboratory analyses of fossil bones	441
Determination of sex of fossil bones	441
Determination of blood types in fossil bones	446
Notes	453
György Duma:
Recent pottery analysis	455
Complex chemical and mineralogical investigation of pottery	455
Production of unglazed black pottery containing organic coloring agents	460
Carbon separation and carbon incorporation out of carbon monoxide and gases containing carbon monoxide	461
Investigation of favorable carbon incorporation in pottery	462
Investigation of pottery made out of clay containing organic matter	463
Glazed pottery	465
Literature	466
György Duma:
Phosphate tests used in Pannonian research	469
Soil investigations	469
Investigation of earth in pots	472
Investigation of unglazed pots	473
Literature	475
Alfonz Lengyel:
Chronological table	477
Index	489
Plates (photos by Zsuzsanna Erdőkürti, J. Karáth, K. Kónya, Ilona Molnár and S. Soproni)	507