

CONTENTS

Preface . . . . .	7
Part One
ON HUNGARIAN FUTURE RESEARCH. . . . .	11
Géza Kovács: On the History of Hungarian Future Research (1965–1980) . . . . .	13
Sándor Szalai: The Present State of Future Research . . . . .	20
Ádám Schmidt: Future Research and Future Building . . . . .	33
Imre Korán: The Discipline of Economic Prognostics in Hungary . . . . .	47
Part Two
IDEOLOGICAL AND WORLD ECONOMIC ASPECTS . . . . .	59
Attila Ágh: The Future as History in a Marxist Perspective . . . . .	61
József Bognár: The Start of a New Era in an Interdependent World . . . . .	74
Mihály Simai: World Economic Forecasts, World Models and their Hungarian Aspects . . . . .	84
Part Three
METHODOLOGICAL ASPECTS . . . . .	101
Lajos Besenyey, Erzsébet Gidai, Erzsébet Nováky: Methodological Experiences of Future Research in Hungary . . . . .	103
Part Four
FROM THE WORKSHOP OF HUNGARIAN FUTURE RESEARCH. . . . .	135
Lajos Szántó: The State and Prospects of the Prognostics of Science . . . . .	137
Vince Grolmusz: Hungarian Experiences in Scientific and Technological Prognostics . . . . .	150
Gyula Németh: The Relationship between Future Research and Socio-Economic Planning in Hungary . . . . .	163

János Farkas: The Forecasting of the Social Aspects of Scientific-Technological Progress . . . . .	176
András Lévai: Energy Forecasts with Special Regard to Hungarian Conditions . . . . .	187
György Marosán Jr.: The Development of Hungarian Industry till the Year 2000 . . . . .	223
Kálmán Kádus: Transport Conditions in Hungary by the End of the Century . . . . .	234
Ferenc Vidor: Planning and Forecasting within the Urban Realm. . . . .	246
Bence Adorján: Computer Science in the Next Two Decades . . . . .	259
György Csaba: Biological-Genetic Problems from the Aspect of Future Research . . . . .	273
Pál Sárkány: A Prognosis for Agriculture: The Emergence of Biological Industry. . . . .	288
György Gerle: The Expected Development of the Environment in Hungary. . . . .	300
András Klinger: The Demographic Map of Hungary at Present and by the Year 2000 . . . . .	315
Tamás Kolosi: Major Trends in Hungarian Social Mobility and Social Structure . . . . .	334
László Cseh-Szombathy: Prognostic Problems of the Socialist Way of Life . . . . .	346
Tamás Valló, Radmila Verszovsek: The Prognostication of Private Consumption: Achievements and Prospects . . . . .	356
Tamás Kozma: Present Trends and Future Developments in Education . . . . .	372