

Office of the Provost

November 24, 2021

Dear Mr. Nikolas Podraza,

The Office of the Provost would like to congratulate you for being named in a submission to the “Shout Out” for Innovative Instructors and Staff campaign.

The campaign provided students with the opportunity to highlight instructors and staff who have positively impacted their well-being, success, or sense of community on campus during the fall 2021 semester.

Here is what a student said, recognizing your support this semester:

He has pre-recorded lectures that help us with the understanding of the subject material. Also, his semester long schedule of exams and homework are pre-defined, which makes it easier for us students to figure out things ahead of time.

Thank you for going above and beyond to help our students feel supported and able to succeed!

All submissions are being compiled and may be disseminated so that we can celebrate the ways in which our instructors and staff support student success and allow others to learn from you.

Sincerely,

Karen S. Bjorkman, PhD.
Provost and Executive Vice President
Academic Affairs

Denise Bartell, PhD.
Associate Vice Provost for Student
Success