

UT NEWS

Oct. 17, 2005
Volume 6, Issue 5

www.utnews.utoledo.edu

'Twist of Faith' showing at UT Oct. 21-23

Deanna Woolf

The Oscar-nominated documentary "Twist of Faith," chronicling a Toledo man's journey through the aftermath of sexual abuse, will be shown in Doermann Theater Friday-Sunday, Oct. 21-23.

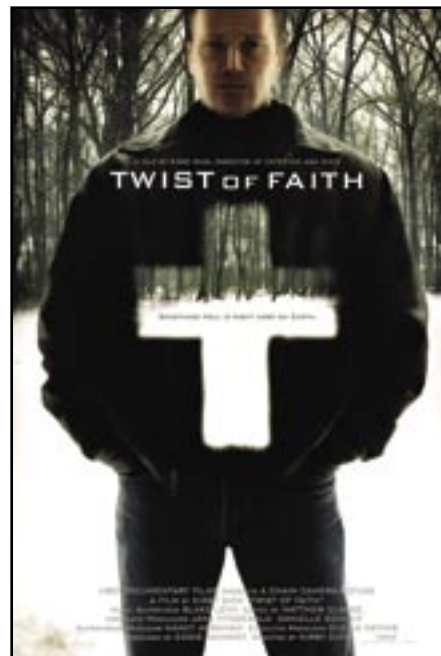

The movie will begin at 7:30 p.m., and tickets are $7 at the door.

Tony and Wendy Comes, the film's subjects, will attend the Saturday, Oct. 22, showing and take part in a question-and-answer session afterward.

The screenings are presented by the department of theatre and film and UT's Sexual Assault and Prevention Program.

More than 20 years ago, Tony Comes was sexually abused as a teenager by a priest who taught at a local Catholic high school. Years later, the film begins as

continued on page 2

Students have chance to invest $1 million gift

By Jon Strunk

The College of Business Administration has long taught students to successfully navigate the stock market and manage finances once they begin their careers.

Now students will no longer have to wait to enter the job market to test the skills they are learning. Using $1 million allocated by the UT Foundation's investment committee, students taking the Security Analysis and Portfolio Management class will have the ability to invest in the market and will be treated just as any investment manager.

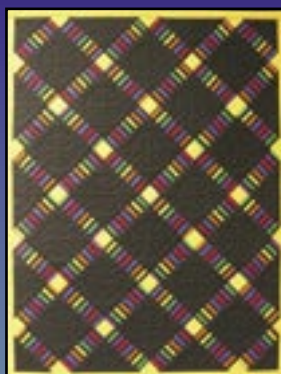

According to Dr. Thomas Gutteridge, dean of the College of Business Administration, this experience will not only give students investment experience, but also will give them a "leg up" on the competition when they look to enter the work force.

"This type of experience is invaluable to employers in this arena," Gutteridge said. "A lot of business schools do 'mock-trading' exercises, but the UT College of Business Administration is taking it to a whole new level by letting our students oversee real dollars."

John Neff, a UT alumnus and finance legend, agreed with the dean. Neff, a $1 million donor who helped create the college's state-of-the-art trading floor that bears his name, said he believed "this exposure will hopefully produce some good portfolio managers."

David Van Hooser, the UT Foundation's investment chair, said he was excited by the opportunity. "We decided we could meet our fiduciary responsibility to our donors — while still giving students this real-world opportunity — if we treated the students like any other investment manager," he said.

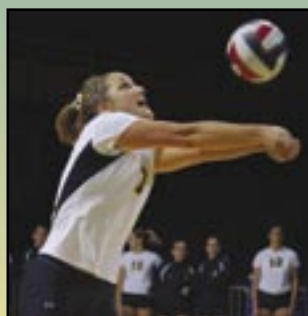

Student investors will need to have an understanding of their fiduciary responsibility and compliance procedures. They will need to meet and exceed appropriate benchmarks and report to the investment committee on a quarterly basis. Students will work with faculty and the UT Foundation as it makes its investment decisions.

Quilt trip
page 5

Now seating
page 6

Bumped up
page 8

Campus Town Hall With President Dan Johnson

Thursday, Oct. 20
3-5 p.m.

Student Union Room 2592

President discusses collaboration, competition with Chinese counterparts

By Jon Strunk

One of the first things President Dan Johnson noticed about China was the incredible level of economic development, construction and community growth that seems to pervade the country.

"There are cranes everywhere. They're like trees," he said of the Chinese cities of Beijing and Shanghai at a talk sponsored by the UT Asian Studies Institute last week. He discussed the UT delegation he led to China in August to help enhance and

continued on page 4

President Dan Johnson and Yanshan University President Liu Hongmin signed the UT/Yanshan University Cooperative Exchange and Recruitment Agreement Aug. 8 in Qinhuangdao, China.

UT kicks off 2005 Community Charitable Campaign

By Jon Strunk

The events of the last few months have served to accentuate the importance of charitable groups in our society. While the aftermath of the Gulf Coast storms has been the focus of much of these efforts recently, local groups also need assistance to continue helping those who are less fortunate in northwest Ohio.

One week into The University of Toledo's annual Community Charitable Campaign, more than $43,336 has been raised as of Friday.

"The UT Community Charitable Campaign is so important because the results are so immediate," said Dr. Martin Ohlinger, UT assistant professor of pharmacy practice and campaign co-chair. "You can give to the charity you want to give to and you can see the positive results driving through your community."

President Dan Johnson agreed. "This campaign is critical because your support stays in the area, helping those who need it most," he said in a video message to the UT community available at <http://rocketvideo.utoledo.edu/unitedway/unitedway.html>.

Last year, UT gave back $148,000 to the community and Ohlinger said he hopes to break the $155,000 mark this year.

Dan Saevig, associate vice president for alumni relations and campaign co-chair, said, "Last year we had more people involved than in a long time and if we can keep increasing our participation, I have no doubt we'll be able to meet our goal."

This year's campaign began last week with the first of a series of e-mails sent each Monday through Nov. 14 from the United Way asking UT employees to donate. In addition to a message and information about the campaign, the e-mail will contain a link that enables UT community members to pledge money electronically through a payroll deduction. The minimum pledge for payroll deduction is $24.

While the United Way distributes the e-mails, donations also can be made to groups working with Northwest Ohio Community Shares, Community Health Charities of Ohio and Earth Shares of Ohio. Combined, the four groups represent more than 200 organizations. For a complete list, visit www.charitablecampaign.utoledo.edu.

For those who would rather use a paper pledge card, these can be obtained from your college or administrative unit team leader. The Web site has a listing of team leaders with contact information if you have questions.

UT president to serve on Third Frontier advisory board

UT President Dan Johnson recently was appointed to the Third Frontier advisory board by Gov. Bob Taft.

According to a news release issued by the governor's office, the Third Frontier advisory board shall provide general advice to the Third Frontier Commission on various items including but not limited to:

- Strategic planning for programs administered by the commission;
- Budget and funding priorities, funding processes, request-for-proposal criteria, and other aspects of the management and coordination of programs administered by the commission;
- Metrics and methods of measuring the progress and impact of programs administered by the commission; and
- Studies to be conducted to collect and analyze data relevant to advancing the goals of programs administered by the commission.

Johnson's term runs through March 14, 2006. He replaces Dr. Sidney Ribeau, president of Bowling Green State University, who resigned.

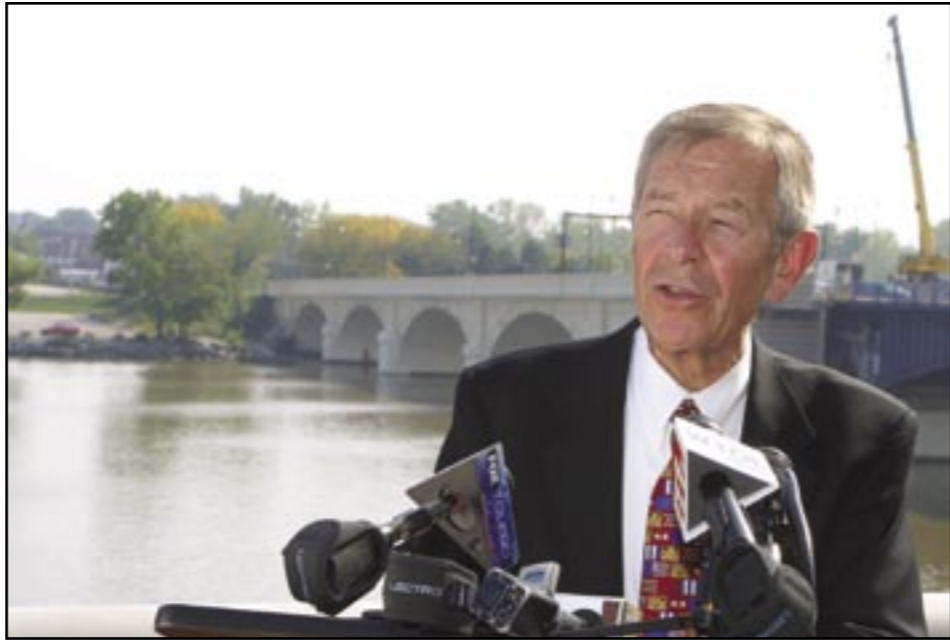

Photo by Daniel Miller

Ohio Sen. George Voinovich talked about the transportation monies he helped secure for Toledo at an Oct. 4 press conference at One Maritime Plaza downtown. Key among these was $2 million over four years for the creation of a University Transportation Center at The University of Toledo. The UT center will research intermodal and logistics transportation issues.

'Twist'

continued from page 1

Comes realizes the same man lives down the street from his family. He files a lawsuit against the Catholic Dioceses of Toledo and goes public with his story.

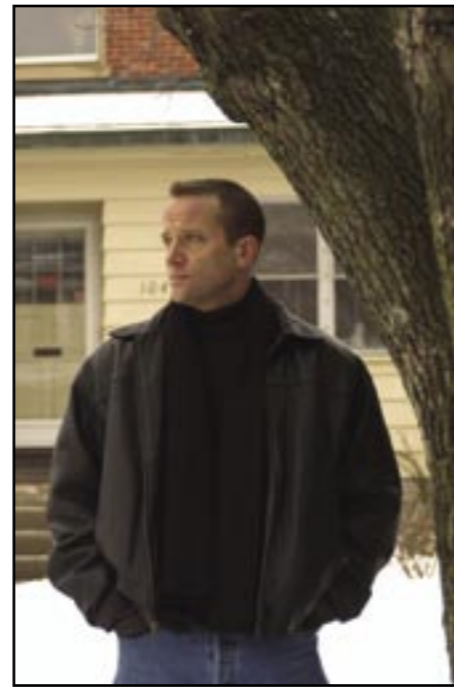

The film follows Comes for nearly two years, showing intimate moments with his family, his trip to the first SNAP (Survivors Network of those Abused by Priests) conference, and Comes' meeting with two other men abused by the same priest.

No movie theaters in Toledo have carried the film for the general public to see. "Since I haven't talked to any of the movie theater owners about this, I have no real knowledge of why the movie wasn't shown. It could have been censorship or simply a business decision," said Holly Monsos, professor and interim chair of theatre and film.

"However, judging by the number of calls we've had about the film, there is a great deal of interest in Toledo in seeing this film, even though it has already played on HBO," Monsos said. "Having seen it myself, I find it to be a very moving and powerful story of one man's struggle to deal with the legacy of sexual abuse, and I'm filled with admiration for the courage and honesty that both Tony and Wendy Comes showed in opening their lives and their struggles to the cameras. I think it's a story that the whole community should have the opportunity to see, and I'm proud that we're the ones who got the chance to screen it for the Toledo area."

For more information, contact the department of theatre and film at Ext. 2202.

Comes

Correction

Dr. Sharon Barnes, UT assistant professor of interdisciplinary studies and special programs, said J.K. Rowling is the fourth most-challenged author out of a total of 8,332 challenges from 1990 to 2004. She gave a talk, "Banning Fantasy: Harry Potter and the Religious Right," during UT's 2005 Banned Books Week Vigil.

Get to know ...

Ronald S. Davis

Ronald S. Davis is a visiting assistant professor of early childhood, physical and special education, a position he started this semester. In June, he retired from Toledo Public Schools, where he worked 35 years as a school psychologist. The Pittsburgh native has taught part time at UT for 10 years. Davis graduated from Ashland College with a bachelor's degree in psychology and from the University of Akron with a master's degree in educational psychology.

Family: "I am married to Dianne for 32 years. She was a first-grade teacher for Oregon City Schools for 35 years. Our son is 29 and a social worker with Flower Hospital in the psychiatric department."

Pet: "Our dog, Bosco, is a wire-haired fox terrier who is very lively and probably has ADHD!"

Hobbies: "Working in my yard and our water garden, and community theater."

Favorite quote: "From the play 'You Can't Take It With You': 'How many of us would be willing to settle when we're young for what we eventually get?'"

Three words to describe yourself: "Humorous, dedicated, creative."

Favorite meal to cook: "Barbecued ribs on the grill."

Last vacation: "A cruise to the southern Caribbean in summer 2005."

Favorite fall activity: "I enjoy spending time with my wife outdoors walking and enjoying the fall leaves — most of which are in our yard."

Something people would be surprised to know about you: "I am currently appearing in 'Beauty and the Beast' with Oregon Community Theatre as the candlestick, Lumiere, starting the first two weekends in November."

Homecoming snapshots

Photo by Daniel Miller

Breakfast to go: Brianna Nelson, a sophomore in the College of Health and Human Services, reached for a bagel piece as Jennifer Vojta, left, and Jennifer Ice, both seniors in the College of Arts and Sciences, handed out free breakfast to start Homecoming week festivities.

Photo by Daniel Miller

The Ealey show: Chuck Ealey, who was quarterback of the Rockets during their 35-0 streak from 1969 to 1971, signed a jersey before the Homecoming parade. Ealey was the grand marshal of the parade.

Photo by Terry Fell

Who loves ya, baby: Dr. Thomas Gutteridge, dean of the College of Business Administration, tossed some candy to the crowd along Bancroft Street as Barbara Tartaglia, director of development in Institutional Advancement, drove the car during the Homecoming parade.

Excellence Office director steps down

By Jon Strunk

Dr. Helen Cooks recently stepped down from her position as director of the Office of Excellence and assistant vice president, a position she held for 16 years.

She will continue doing research work at the University.

"The devotion Dr. Cooks has to the work of the Office of Excellence has been key, especially in providing college opportunities for students who might not have been able to attend otherwise," said Dr. Alan Goodridge, provost and executive vice president for academic affairs and enrollment services.

He added the transition has been smooth with David Young as interim director of the Office of Excellence. Pam Rogers has been named interim director of Upward Bound and Student Support Services to replace Young.

Young first met Cooks as an undergraduate student at UT and said it was Cooks' passion for students that he respected most.

"What I admired so much was that she was a warrior for students," Young said. "She would fight tooth and nail for students both inside and outside her program."

But in addition to the academic and financial support offered to students through the Office of Excellence, Cooks challenged her students as well.

"It was important that I be firm, loving and caring, but demanding," Cooks said. "The truth of the matter is that minority students don't have the luxury of losing."

Volunteer to make a difference

By Deanna Woolf

Faculty, staff and students: Lend a helping hand to the community during "Make a Difference Day" on Sunday, Oct. 23, from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

"Make a Difference Day" was created by USA Weekend Magazine and is a celebration of neighbors helping each other. It is held the fourth Saturday in October, but UT's observation date was changed due to Parents and Family Day on Oct. 22.

People can volunteer as a group or as individuals. Forms are due by Wednesday, Oct. 19, at 5 p.m. to the Student Government Office in Student Union Room 3512.

On "Make a Difference Day," volunteers are to meet, sign in and be ready to go by 11 a.m. at the Varsity T Pavilion.

Community members also can submit projects for the day. The requests are

‘Murderball’ to be screened Oct. 26

By Deanna Woolf

“No arms, no legs, no problem!” proclaims Bob Lujano, one of the wheelchair quad rugby players in “Murderball.”

The documentary, which follows members of Team USA and Team Canada as they head toward the 2004 Paralympics, will be shown on Wednesday, Oct. 26, at 4 p.m. in the Nitschke Hall Auditorium.

The event is sponsored by the Office of Accessibility, the Ability Center of Greater Toledo, the Disability Studies Program and the Association of Disability Studies Students in honor of National Disability Awareness Month.

Quad rugby, originally called murderball due to its rough nature, involves two teams of four players in specialized wheelchairs working to advance the ball across the opponent’s goal line. Players must have a combination of upper and lower extremity impairment to be eligible.

Debbie Arbogast, disability specialist with the Office of Accessibility, said the movie was “a tearjerker but made us laugh because people are people. Yeah, life has changed, but you can still go on living.”

Arbogast once tried quad rugby at a disability expo in Michigan. Afterward, “I felt like I paralyzed my left thumb for a week. The wheelchairs they use — they’re like tanks, so heavy and thick. You get hit on the side and head on. Quad rugby is aggressive.”

She also warned some parts of the film might not be suitable for children. “There’re

Mark Zupan of Team USA quad rugby team

some scenes about men just being men,” she explained. But she believes these scenes also help dispel the idea that “people think of those with disabilities as sexless beings.”

“Murderball” won the Documentary Audience Award and a Special Jury Prize for Editing at the 2005 Sundance Film Festival.

For more information on the free, public event, contact the Office of Accessibility at Ext. 4981 or Ext. 2612 for TTY.

President

continued from page 1

formalize relations between UT and Chinese higher education, research and business institutions.

In just four years, Yanshan University, located in Toledo’s sister city, Qinhuangdao in northeastern China, developed a booming science and technology park that Johnson said illustrated a stark contrast between the pace of economic growth of China and that of the United States and Toledo.

Yanshan’s park is similar in concept to the Northwest Ohio Science and Technology Corridor Johnson said he envisions for Toledo and the region. Johnson signed an agreement with Yanshan University to work together to encourage faculty and student exchanges, in addition to mutually beneficial joint ventures.

In addition to noting the furious pace at which new Chinese universities are being built and old ones expanded and modernized, Johnson called China a rising power, particularly in the area of science, and punctuated his statement with a news report published earlier in the day announcing China had just completed its second manned space flight.

“Universities are in the [science and technology] game whether we want to be or not,” he said, adding it is American higher education that will be key in determining whether the United States is able to respond effectively to the competition created by China’s economic growth.

The trip was also an effort to boost the University’s recruitment of international students, discuss visa policies put in place after 9-11 that have inhibited students from studying overseas, and formalize relationships with Chinese institutions of higher education, Johnson said.

“We met with the counsel general of the visa section at the U.S. Embassy in China and explained our frustrations at the high education visa denial rate,” he said. Johnson said officials explained it was the low return rate of students to China after graduation more than terrorism concerns that made obtaining visas difficult.

He added there has been some evidence of a higher approval rate since his trip but said educating students applying for visas on the process would help, as candidates face rapid-fire interviews — rarely over two minutes in length — where instant judgments are made regarding visa distribution.

“UT and many other universities are suffering from these policies,” he said, referring both to UT where international student enrollment has dipped, as well as to American universities in general. “These students now go to their second, third and fourth choice universities in Canada, the UK

Center for Women announces Legacy Courtyard

By Deanna Woolf

For 22 years, Project Succeed, a program through the Catharine S. Eberly Center for Women, has helped more than 6,000 under- and unemployed women obtain college degrees and economic self-sufficiency. But as of June 30, funding for the program was eliminated from the state budget.

That is not stopping Dr. Patricia Murphy, interim director of the center. She is leading a fund-raising campaign for people to buy bricks to pave the Legacy Courtyard, slated to open during fall 2006. The money from the bricks will help to fund operating expenses for Project Succeed for two years.

For a minimum of $250, a brick will be inscribed and set in the ground to form the courtyard, located between a parking lot and the front of the center in Tucker Hall.

The courtyard project needs to raise $23,000 by Nov. 15 to receive $23,000 in matching funds from the Toledo Community Foundation.

“This is not just a recruitment tool for UT,” Murphy said of Project Succeed. “We help the women gain confidence, get information on financial aid, learn how to take classes — all of these things.” Among the services offered through the program are scholarships, guidance in job searches, self-esteem groups, financial literacy programs, and Internet and computer courses.

For more information on making a donation, contact the Center for Women at Ext. 8570 or visit the Web site at www.provost.utoledo.edu/eberly/courtyard.html.

or Australia.”

Johnson also mentioned the formation of the first UT Alumni Association chapter of 16 graduates living in China.

After the session, which included comments by Dr. Bob Cryan, UT professor of early childhood education, and Dr. Guangzhong Chen, UT instructor of mathematics, who joined Johnson on his trip, several audience members questioned the University’s commitment to Asian studies, pointing to the absence of Chinese language courses.

Sue Ott Rowlands, interim dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, said courses including the culture and language of China were planned but not yet finalized. Johnson acknowledged the University has a lot of work to do to establish partnerships with Chinese universities and businesses, saying the trip was a starting point and asking the community to evaluate UT’s progress at this time next year.

See works by Quotidian Quilt Guild at Center for Women

By Krista M. Hayes

Changing seasons, vines, plants, trees, waves, railroads — all have inspired the members of the Quotidian Quilt Guild. Several of their creations are on display in the Catharine S. Eberly Center for Women through Dec. 9.

The quilt guild is composed of area women who meet once every other month at the Quilt Foundry in Maumee to make and share quilting ideas on different colors, patterns, fabrics and lines. The meetings usually have a theme, with October’s discussion centered on color theory.

Established eight years ago, the organization and its members all share the common interest of completing smaller pieces, focusing on just one project at a time. “Putting fabric pieces together while sewing them to make a quilt proves to be a long and difficult process, with an average bed-sized quilt taking anywhere from six months to a year to complete,” said UT alumna and guild member Gretchen Schultz.

Most of the group’s women enjoy doing smaller pieces of quilting, which usually can be completed within a month’s period. Some of the quilts are embellished with beads, buttons, trims and threads.

Among the 20 submitted quilts to the exhibit, Schultz will showcase her work titled “Autumn Splendor” in celebration of the changing seasons. Her paper-pieced, small-blocked quilt features dimensional appliqué of oak leaves and chrysanthemums, with traditional fall tones of orange, brown and green mixed with some shades of blue, giving the quilt a bittersweet feel.

Her interest in quilting began when her mother gave her quilting blocks she found among the belongings of Schultz’s late aunt. Years later, Schultz donated her time and skills to her church in support of a Lutheran World Relief effort when she sewed and tied blocks together, making quilts for the homeless and needy.

Like Schultz, many women of the guild have been quilting for more than 15 years. According to Schultz, over the years

“I Am the Vine” by Bernice LaPlantz

“Split Waves” by Joyce Dauer

the guild has grown to become a support system, as well as a group that shares a nice mixture of ideas, thoughts and techniques for quilting. “The guild is a wonderful group of women with each of them coming from different walks of life, which is portrayed in their quilting,” Schultz said.

A reception with the quilters — Schultz, Joyce Dauer, Cheryl Darr, Bernice LaPlantz, Madelyn Botek, Jill Holt and Joanna Suter — will take place Thursday, Oct. 20, from 5 to 7 p.m.

The free, public exhibit can be seen Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

For more information on the Quotidian Quilt Guild Exhibition, contact the Center for Women at Ext. 8570.

Meet the ‘Women of Lockerbie’

By Deanna Woolf

On Dec. 21, 1988, Pan Am Flight 103 was blown up over Lockerbie, Scotland, killing 248 passengers and 16 crewmembers. But the women of the town decided to turn an act of hatred into an act of compassion, washing and returning every piece of clothing that was found to victims’ families.

“The Women of Lockerbie,” which runs Oct. 18-23 in the Center for Performing Arts Studio Theatre, depicts the residents’ work, along with the search of a New Jersey mother for her son’s remains.

“When my dramaturge and I began exploring the piece, we discovered that there were a lot of controversies and mysteries surrounding the Pan Am bombing,” said director Irene Alby, visiting assistant professor of theatre. “I strongly felt that in the day and age in which we live, we couldn’t brush these things aside; so, we have added excerpts from news articles, audio and scrolling text to ask the questions ‘What happened?’ and ‘Why?’ Our goal is not to provide answers, but simply to generate interest in asking the questions.”

UT students in the cast are Alex Klinefelter, Christina D’Amato, Abby Youngs, Ernest Green, Nicole Corpus, Jessica Knight and Daneen Buschmann. Deborah Coulter-Harris, visiting instructor of English, also will take part in the production.

Curtain times are 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday through Saturday and 2 p.m. on Sunday. A signed performance will be given Wednesday, Oct. 19.

Tickets are $9, and $7 for UT students. Tickets are available at the Theatre Box Office Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and one hour prior to performances. Tickets also can be ordered online at www.theatrefilm.utoledo.edu.

For more information, contact the department of theatre and film at Ext. 2202.

Bill (Alex Klinefelter) and Madelene (Christina D’Amato) talk about their grief in a scene from “The Women of Lockerbie.”

Wind Ensemble to give ‘spook-tacular’ concert Halloween night

By Terry Biel

The University of Toledo Wind Ensemble will perform in concert Monday, Oct. 31, at 8 p.m. in Doermann Theater. The free, public event will feature a Halloween theme.

“We’re trying to make this a fun, family concert,” said Dr. Jason Stumbo, UT director of bands and assistant professor of music. “We’re encouraging people to come in costume. There’ll be decorations, and there’ll be trick-or-treating with plenty of candy.”

The UT Wind Ensemble is an auditioned ensemble of about 50 players, including around 15 music majors. Works to be performed will fit the Halloween theme and include “Ghost Train,” “Incantation and Dance” and “Voodoo.”

For more information on the concert, contact the music department at Ext. 2448.

Photo by Daniel Miller

New café offers students late-night hangout

By Jon Strunk

UT students looking for a late-night snack won't have to venture off campus. Taylor and Byrnes Café, which opened last week in Ottawa House East, will keep its doors open until 1 a.m. on the weekends and 11 p.m. during the week.

Student Government President Tom Crawford said he is hopeful students will take advantage of the new late-night venue.

"Students are staying out later on campus," he said, citing an increased number of students he sees when traversing the campus late at night. "I hope students use the new café as a place to congregate and hang out."

In addition to the coffee options and desserts, Taylor and Byrnes offers a variety of sandwiches, soups and salads and a more intimate atmosphere than other eateries on campus. Opening each day at 8 a.m., the café closes at 11 p.m. Sunday through Thursday and 1 a.m. Saturday and Sunday.

The café's opening coincides with that of the Ottawa House East Dining Hall. Dubbed a "marché" or marketplace concept, the new, all-you-care-to-eat dining hall offers a wide range of food options from cold cereal to a Tex-Mex grill, from rotisserie and flatbread pizza ovens to vegan and vegetarian choices.

Greg Graham, manager of retail operations, also noted the hall's architecture, highlighting the dining room's fireplace and plans for stained-glass panels on some of the walls.

The hall is open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday through Friday and 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. on weekends. The cost is $4, $5 and $6 for breakfast, lunch and dinner, respectively.

The pair of eateries mark the conclusion of a three-year renovation of UT dining facilities, including the Parks Tower Dining Hall, Rocky's Emporium, the new Student Union Food Court, and renovations to Carter Hall, International House and Scott Park eateries.

"A cross section of the University — Student Government, residential student advisers, faculty, staff — all helped to create this concept and take the University's dining services program to a new level of service and selection," said Al Comley, assistant vice president of auxiliary and business services. "With the opening of Taylor and Byrnes and the Ottawa House Dining Hall, I think we've completed something we all can be proud of."

Photo by Daniel Miller

Lunchtime: Thao Le, a freshman in the College of Pharmacy, takes a bite of her lunch as she sits with Hiep Ho, a freshman in the Student Success Center, in the Ottawa House East Dining Hall.

Orientation programs set to reach students year-round

By Deanna Woolf

Rocket Launch only in the summer? No orientation program for transition students? Not any longer.

Rocket Launch and Rocket Transition will now familiarize new students with life at The University of Toledo throughout the year.

According to James Norman, manager of orientation programs, the changes came out of a First-Year Experience (FYE) grant his office received to travel to schools in and out of Ohio. "We found what we were doing with Rocket Launch was great — but we weren't doing anything with the transfer students," he explained. Added to that were suggestions about Rocket Launch from a staff retreat. "We felt that what we did during the summer was great, but we were missing people coming in at different times of the year."

Rocket Launch and Rocket Transition sessions will now be held for students entering UT during spring, summer and fall semesters.

All incoming direct-from-high-school and nontraditional students will be expected to attend Rocket Launch. "We're adding an informational workshop called Transitional Issues," he said. "There're a lot of students coming to school with jobs and two or three kids. There're a lot of first-generation college kids, too." Norman explained the session will help students with family support and emotions about attending school at any age.

Rocket Transition programs are tailored for students transferring from two- or four-year schools. "They may not have had an orientation session at their previous school. Here we can give them tools to ease the transition," Norman said. The program will include information on department services and a question-and-answer session with current UT transfer students.

Upcoming dates for Rocket Transition for spring semester are Friday, Oct. 28, Tuesday, Nov. 22, and Thursday, Dec. 15, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. each day.

Rocket Launch sessions will be held Monday, Nov. 21, and Wednesday, Dec. 14, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. each day.

For more information on the sessions, visit the Orientation Program Web site at orientation.utoledo.edu or contact the office at Ext. 1267.

Scholar explores forgetting lessons

By Deanna Woolf

Dr. Marshall Gregory, the Ice Professor of English, Liberal Education and Pedagogy at Butler University, will deliver his second presentation in the 2005-06 Roundtable Lecture Series on Friday, Oct. 21.

Gregory will discuss "Forgetting, Learning and Living: How Education Can Make a Difference If We Forget Most of What We Learn" at 1 p.m. in Health and Human Services Building Room 1600.

"One of the elephants in the teaching room is that we forget most of the things we learn. This goes for our students, as well. We ought to know in advance that most of them are going to forget most of what we teach," Gregory said. "This raises the question of what it means to be educated. If an educated person has forgotten most of what he learns, the difference is not a difference in content. You must have been learning something else besides content." And Gregory plans to reveal what that is during his speech.

Gregory's consultancy is sponsored by the Arts and Humanities Roundtable and the Humanities Institute. A Program for Academic Excellence Award provided funding for the visits.

For more information on the free, public event, contact the Humanities Institute at Ext. 2329.

myUT Web portal training sessions slated go to www.utnews.utoledo.edu

Volunteer

continued from page 3

due by 5 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 19, to the Office of Service-Learning and Community Engagement in University Hall Room 3770.

To download volunteer and project request forms, visit the UT "Make a Difference Day" Web site at www.servicelearning.utoledo.edu/mdd.htm.

Calendar

continued from page 8

Chemistry Seminar

"Recent Development in Synthesizing Silver Nanowires." Speaker: Ahmad Taha, UT doctoral student. Bowman-Oddy Laboratories Room 1053. 4 p.m. Free, public. Info: 419.530.7902.

Financial Literacy Program

Six-week program that teaches women to be competent money managers. Center for Women, Tucker Hall Room 168. 6-8 p.m. Continues weekly through Nov. 28. Free, public. Info: 419.530.8570.

Self-Defense Program

"Girls Fight Back! A Self-Defense Program." Student Union Auditorium. 7 p.m. Free, public. Info: julianne.warneke@utoledo.edu, 419.676.3469

Film Screening

"A Day Without a Mexican." See what happens when Californians wake up and all the Latinos in the state are gone. Part of Hispanic Heritage Month. Sponsor: Latino Student Union. Student Union Room 2591. 7 p.m. Free, public. Info: 419.530.2261.

UT Jazz Night

UT faculty and student jazz combos. Murphy's Place, 151 Water St. 9 p.m. $5, $3 for students. Info: 419.241.7732.

Tuesday, Oct. 25

myUT Web Portal Presentation, Open Lab Learn how to use myUT Web portal. Rocket Hall Room 1530. Noon-1 p.m. Open lab 4-5 p.m. in Carlson Library Room 1009. RSVP: michelle.pratt@utoledo.edu.

"Salvaging Your Semester"

Learn strategies to improve study skills and get better grades. Sponsor: Learning Enhancement Center. Student Union Room 2591. Two sessions: 12:30 and 5:30 p.m. RSVP: 419.530.3647.

French Conversation

All levels welcome. University Hall Room 5440. 2 p.m. Free, public. Info: 419.530.2583.

Faculty Senate Meeting

Student Union Room 2582. 3 p.m. Info: 419.530.2112.

Fall Catholic Lecture Series

"Justice and Forgiveness: Can They Go Together." Speaker: Stephen Pope, associate professor of theology, Boston College. Corpus Christi University Parish. 5:30 p.m. $10. Info: 419.530.1330.

American Ceramic Society Submission Deadline

Abstracts for Michigan/Northwest Ohio section of the American Ceramic Society Student Research Poster Competition are due for the Nov. 16 event. $50 per participant per poster. Applications and information are available from Dr. Abdul-Majeed Azad, UT associate professor of chemical engineering. Info: abdul-majeed.azad@utoledo.edu, 419.530.8103.

Society for Environmental Education Talk

"Vegan, Schmeggan: Why Not Eat Meat Products?" Panel discussion about food choices and lifestyles. Student Union Room 2562. 7 p.m. Free, public. Info: 419.530.6039.

Film Screening

"Thunderbird Woman." Sponsor: UT women's and gender studies department. University Hall Room 4180. 7:30 p.m. Free, public. Info: 419.530.2233.

Jazz Concert

UT Jazz Ensemble directed by Gunnar Mossblad, UT professor of music. Center for Performing Arts Recital Hall. 8 p.m. $5, $3 for students and seniors. Info: 419.530.2448.

Wednesday, Oct. 26

Board of Trustees Meeting

Health and Human Services Building Room 1711. 8:15 a.m. Info: 419.530.2814.

Honors Lecture

"Chitinase Activity: A Novel Approach for Nematodes to Combat Fungal Infections." Speaker: Ali Hussain, UT senior. Faculty mentor: Dr. Patricia Komuniecki.

UT professor and chair of biological sciences. Sullivan Hall Room 103. Noon. Free, public. Info: 419.530.6030.

Episcopal Faculty and Staff Luncheon

Phoenicia Cuisine Restaurant. Noon. RSVP: 419.530.2360.

myUT Web Portal Presentation, Open Lab

Rocket Hall Room 1530. Noon-1 p.m. Open lab 4-5 p.m. in Carlson Library Room 1009. RSVP: michelle.pratt@utoledo.edu.

Stress Reduction Seminar

Learn how to deal with everyday pressures with Dr. Ashley Pryor, UT assistant professor of women's and gender studies. Center for Women, Tucker Hall Room 168. 3-4:15 p.m. Weekly through Dec. 7. Free, public. Info: 419.530.2642, 419.530.8570.

German Coffee Hour

"Kaffeestunde." Student Union Room 3020. 3:30-4:30 p.m. Free, public. Info: 419.530.5506.

"Techno-Bits"

"Basic Image Editing With 'Picasa.'" Carlson Library Room 1005A. 3 p.m. Sponsor: Center for Teaching and Learning. Info: 419.530.2075.

Film Screening

"Murderball." See the documentary about wheelchair quad rugby. In celebration of Disability Awareness Month. Nitschke Hall Auditorium. 4 p.m. Free, public. Info: 419.530.4981, 419.530.2612.

Chemistry Seminar

"Discovery and Development of New Catalysts for the Synthesis of Small Molecules, Polymers and Natural Products." Speaker: Dr. Geoffrey Coates, Cornell University. Bowman-Oddy Laboratories Room 1053. 4 p.m. Free, public. Info: 419.530.7902.

Ramadan Potluck Dinner

Center for Women, Tucker Hall Room 168. 6 p.m. Free for women who are asked to bring a dish to share. Info: 419.530.7232.

Miniya Program

"Protect Yourself! AIDS and African-American Women." Sponsor: Miniya, a mentoring and peer group for African-American female students. International House Sixth Floor Multipurpose Room. 6 p.m. Free, public. Info: 419.509.9420.

Informal Bible Study

Speaker: Laura Gallien, Loyola University at New Orleans. Sponsor: Toledo Campus Ministry. The Ark, located west of West Parking Ramp. 7-9 p.m. Info: 419.536.4865.

Thursday, Oct. 27

Center for Women Brown-Bag Workshop

"Islam and Domestic Violence: A Cultural Competency Workshop." Speaker: Dr. Asma Abdel Halim, UT assistant professor of women's and gender studies. Center for Women, Tucker Hall Room 180. 12:30-2:30 p.m. Free, public. Info: 419.530.8570.

"Salvaging Your Semester"

Student Union Room 2591. 12:30 p.m. RSVP: 419.530.3647.

UT-BGSU Physics and Astronomy Colloquium

"Intracluster Stars: Stars Between the Galaxies." Speaker: Patrick Durrell, Youngstown State University. Bowling Green State University Overman Hall Room 123. 4 p.m. Free, public. Info: 419.530.2241.

Law Talk

Speaker: Toby Hoover, executive director, Ohio Coalition Against Gun Violence. Law Center Auditorium. Noon. Free, public. Info: 419.530.2712.

myUT Web Portal Presentation, Open Lab

Rocket Hall Room 1530. Noon-1 p.m. Open lab 4-5 p.m. in Carlson Library Room 1009. RSVP: michelle.pratt@utoledo.edu.

Honors Lecture

"The Attitudes of Pharmacy Managers to the Prevalence of Automation in Retail Pharmacies of Northwest Ohio." Speaker: Samantha Wright, UT senior. Faculty mentor: Dr. Mary Powers, UT associate professor of pharmacy practice. Sullivan Hall Room 103. 1 p.m. Free, public. Info: 419.530.6030.

Children's Book Collection for Hurricane Victims

Student Union by UT Bookstore. 1-3 p.m. Info: 419.381.0699.

Artist Presentation and Reception

Visual presentation by Jose (Joe) Lopez, a leader in the Chicano art movement from South Texas. Part of Hispanic Heritage Month. Multicultural Student Center, Student Union Room 2500. 1 p.m. Reception with artist follows at 2 p.m. Free, public. Info: 419.530.2261.

Friday, Oct. 28

Stopped Attending Instructor Withdrawal Deadline

myUT Web Portal Presentation, Open Lab Learn how to use myUT Web portal. Rocket Hall Room 1530. Noon-1 p.m. Open lab 4-5 p.m. in Carlson Library Room 1009. RSVP: michelle.pratt@utoledo.edu.

"Techno-Bits"

"Basic Image Editing With 'Picasa.'" Carlson Library Room 1005A. 2 p.m. Sponsor: Center for Teaching and Learning. Info: 419.530.2075.

Women's Soccer

UT vs. Bowling Green State University. Scott Park Soccer Field. 3 p.m. $5 for adults; $3 for students 18 and younger; $1 for UT faculty and staff with ID; free for UT students with ID. Info: 419.530.4231.

Cultural Art Event

UT and Bowling Green State University students will make "alfombras" (carpets) with flowers and dyed organic materials. Part of Hispanic Heritage Month. Sofia Quintero Cultural Arts Center, 1225 Broadway St. 6-10 p.m. Bus will leave from Ottawa House at 5:30 p.m. RSVP: 419.530.2261, 419.530.4326.

Sub-Saharan Film Festival

"Waiting for Happiness." See the film that won the International Critics Award at the 2002 Cannes Film Festival. Center for Performing Arts Lab Theatre Room 1039. 7 p.m. $3 donation suggested. Info: 419.530.2202.

All-Night Reading

Sign up for a 15-minute slot during the marathon reading of White Noise by Don DeLillo. Sponsor: UT English department. Student Union Room 2592. 7 p.m. Free, public. RSVP: utwhitenoise@yahoo.com.

Planetarium Program

"Women in Astronomy." Ritter Planetarium. 7:30 p.m. Observing at Brooks Observatory follows program, weather permitting. $4 for adults; $3 for seniors and children ages 4-12; free for children 3 and younger. Info: 419.530.4037.

History Lecture

Speaker: Kevin Boyle, Ohio State University, will talk about his book, Arc of Justice: A Sage of Race, Civil Rights and Murder in the Jazz Age (2004). Driscoll Alumni Center Auditorium. 7:30 p.m. Free, public. Info: 419.530.2845.

Saturday, Oct. 29

"Race Away the Violence"

A 5-K run/walk race against domestic violence and violence against women. Sponsor: Alpha Chi Omega. Meet at Carter Field. Runners will start at 9 a.m., walkers at 9:15 a.m. $10, $8 for students. Proceeds to benefit Bethany House. Registration forms available at www.toledoroadrunners.org/Schedules/SCHED_all_2005.htm. Info: 419.676.3469, juliannewarke@utoledo.edu.

Planetarium Program

"The Moon Witch." Ritter Planetarium. 1 p.m. $4 for adults; $3 for seniors and children ages 4-12; free for children 3 and younger. Info: 419.530.4037.

High School Honors Concert

Directed by Dr. Stephen Hodge, UT professor of music. Doermann Theater. 8 p.m. $5, $3 for students and seniors. Info: 419.530.2448.

Sunday, Oct. 30

Daylight-Saving Time Ends — Turn Clocks Back One Hour

Monday, Oct. 31

Latino Leadership Luncheon

"Empowering Our People Through Education." Luncheon to honor Latino educators. Part of Hispanic Heritage Month. Student Union Room 2582. 11 a.m.-1 p.m. Info: 419.530.2261.

myUT Web Portal Presentation, Open Lab

Student Union Ingman Room. Noon-1 p.m. Open lab 4-5 p.m. in Carlson Library Room 1009. RSVP: michelle.pratt@utoledo.edu.

Halloween Concert

University Bands conducted by Dr. Jason Stumbo, UT assistant professor of music. Doermann Theater. 8 p.m. Free, public. Info: 419.530.2448.

Tuesday, Nov. 1

Law Talk

Speaker: Bradley A. Smith, Capital University. Law Center Auditorium. Noon. Free, public. Info: 419.530.2712.

myUT Web Portal Presentation, Open Lab

Student Union Ingman Room. Noon-1 p.m. Open lab 4-5 p.m. in Carlson Library Room 1009. RSVP: michelle.pratt@utoledo.edu.

French Conversation

All levels welcome. University Hall Room 5440. 2 p.m. Free, public. Info: 419.530.2583.

Mars Watch

See the Red Planet during its closest approach to Earth in more than two years. Brooks Observatory. 7-9:30 p.m., weather permitting. $3, $2 for children 12 and younger. Info: 419.530.4037.

Art

Quotidian Quilt Guild Exhibition

Featuring quilts by Quotidian Quilt Guild members — Joyce Dauer, Cheryl Darr, Bernice LaPlantz, Madelyn Botek, Jill Holt, Joanna Suter and Gretchen Schultz. Catharine S. Eberly Center for Women, Tucker Hall Room 168. Through Dec. 9. Monday-Friday, 8:30 a.m.-5 p.m. Reception with the artists Oct. 20, 5-7 p.m. Free, public. Info: 419.530.8570.

UT News is published for faculty and staff by the Marketing and Communications Office biweekly during the academic year and periodically during the summer. Copies are mailed to employees and placed in newsstands on the Bancroft, Scott Park and Toledo Museum of Art campuses. UT News strives to present accurate, fair and timely communication of interest to employees. Story ideas and comments from the UT community are welcome. Send information by campus mail to #949, Marketing and Communications Office, Vicki Kroll. E-mail: vicki.kroll@utoledo.edu. Fax: 419.530.4618. Phone: 419.530.2248. Mailing address: Marketing and Communications Office, The University of Toledo, Toledo, OH 43606-3390.

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR AND SPECIAL ASSISTANT TO THE PRESIDENT FOR MARKETING AND COMMUNICATIONS:

Jeanne Hartig

DIRECTOR OF UNIVERSITY COMMUNICATIONS: Tobin J. Klinger

EDITOR: Vicki L. Kroll

ASSOCIATE EDITOR: Cynthia Nowak

GRAPHIC DESIGNERS: Liz Allen, Meredith Thiede

PHOTOGRAPHERS: Terry Fell, Daniel Miller

CONTRIBUTING WRITERS: Shannon Coon, Krista M. Hayes, Jon Strunk, Deanna Woolf

EDITORIAL ASSISTANTS: Laurie Flowers, Gail Simpson, Joanne Gray

DISTRIBUTION ASSISTANT: Tye Stephens

Student Union by UT Bookstore. 1-3 p.m. Info: 419.381.0699.

The University of Toledo is committed to a policy of equal opportunity in education, employment, membership and contracts, and no differentiation will be made based on race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, sexual orientation, veteran status or the presence of a disability. The University will take affirmative action as required by federal or state law.

Oct. 17, 2005

UT Calendar — Oct. 19-Nov. 1

Wednesday, Oct. 19

myUT Web Portal Presentation, Open Lab
Learn how to use myUT Web portal. Student Union Room 2592. Noon-1 p.m. Open lab 4-5 p.m. in Carlson Library Room 1009. RSVP: michelle.pratt@utoledo.edu.

German Coffee Hour
"Kaffeestunde." Student Union Room 3020. 3:30-4:30 p.m. Free, public. Info: 419.530.5506.

Chemistry Seminar
"Low Temperature Route to Negative Thermal Expansion Materials in the ZrW₂O₈ Family." Speaker: Julie Colin, UT graduate student. Bowman-Oddy Laboratories Room 1053. 4 p.m. Free, public. Info: 419.530.7902.

"Make a Difference Day" Deadline
Sign up to volunteer for UT's "Make a Difference Day" on Sunday, Oct. 23, or submit a request for service. Volunteers need to submit forms by 5 p.m. to Student Government Office, Student Union Room 3512; project requests go to University Hall Room 3770. Forms available at www.servicelearning.utoledo.edu/mdd.htm. Info: meghan.fox@utoledo.edu, 419.356.1477.

Project Succeed Orientation
Program for women in transition following a change in marital status. Center for Women, Tucker Hall Room 168. 5:30 p.m. Free, public. Info: 419.530.8570.

"The Women of Lockerbie"
Play about a mother who roams the hills of Lockerbie, Scotland, looking for her son's remains that were lost in the crash of Pan Am 103. Center for Performing Arts Studio Theatre. 7:30 p.m. $9, $7 for students. Info: 419.530.2375.

Thursday, Oct. 20

International Credit Union Day
Stop by any UT-MUO Federal Credit Union office for free popcorn and a chance to receive gifts. Student Union Room 3019; main office, 5248 Hill Ave.; MUO office, Dowling Hall Room 20. Info: 419.530.2316.

MBA Open House
Stranahan Hall Room 2032. 11:30 a.m.-1 p.m. Free, public. Info: 419.530.2775.

Law Talk
"Restorative Justice." Speaker: Janine Geske, Marquette University Law School. Law Center Auditorium. Noon. Free, public. Info: 419.530.2712.

Center for Teaching and Learning Luncheon Seminar
"Outreach and Engagement at UT." Speaker: Mary Jo Waldock, UT interim dean of University College. Student Union Room 2582. Noon-1:30 p.m. RSVP: 419.530.2075.

myUT Web Portal Presentation, Open Lab
Learn how to use myUT Web portal. Student Union Room 2592. Noon-1 p.m. Open lab 4-5 p.m. in Carlson Library Room 1009. RSVP: michelle.pratt@utoledo.edu.

Center for Women Brown-Bag Lecture
"Oppression of People With Mental Disabilities at the Toledo State Mental Hospital, 1967-1972." Speaker: Dr. Patricia Groves, UT professor of women's and gender studies. Center for Women, Tucker Hall Room 180. 12:30 p.m. Free, public. Info: 419.530.8570.

Children's Book Collection for Hurricane Victims
Used children's books will be collected for victims of hurricanes Katrina and Rita. Sponsor: Kappa Delta Pi. Student Union by elevator. 1-3 p.m. Info: 419.381.0699.

Campus Town Hall
President Dan Johnson and UT administrators will field questions from the campus community. Student Union Room 2592. 3-5 p.m. Info: 419.530.2675.

Research Funding Database Training
Two 30-minute sessions on Community of Science research funding database offered for faculty, staff and students. University Computer Center Room 1600. 3:30 p.m. and 4:10 p.m. RSVP: 419.530.6193, rick.francis@utoledo.edu.

Physics and Astronomy Colloquium
"Research and Development in Physics Education at Ohio State University." Speaker: Lei Bao, Ohio State University. McMaster Hall Room 1005. 4 p.m. Free, public. Info: 419.530.2241.

Artists' Reception
Meet members of the Quotidian Quilt Guild and see their works that are on exhibit through Dec. 9. Catharine S. Eberly Center for Women, Tucker Hall Room 168. 5-7 p.m. Free, public. Info: 419.530.8570.

UT Fast-a-Thon
Help raise money for Hurricane Katrina relief. Sign up or sponsor pledges. Dinner at 6:30 p.m. in Student Union Auditorium. Info: fastathon2005@yahoo.com.

"The Women of Lockerbie"
Center for Performing Arts Studio Theatre. 7:30 p.m. $9, $7 for students. Info: 419.530.2375.

"Cornucopia Talent"
Directed by Robert Ballinger, UT lecturer of music. Wildwood Metropark Preserve Manor House, 5100 W. Central Ave. 7:30 p.m. Free, public. Info: 419.530.2448.

Friday, Oct. 21

Honors Lecture
"The Sinners of Hawthorne's Stories: Teaching Classic Literature to Adolescents." Speaker: Katherine Rickert, UT senior. Faculty mentor: Dr. Skaidrite Stelzer, UT assistant professor of English. Sullivan Hall Room 103. 11:30 a.m. Free, public. Info: 419.530.6030.

myUT Web Portal Presentation, Open Lab
Learn how to use myUT Web portal. Student Union Room 2584. Noon-1 p.m. Open lab 4-5 p.m. in Carlson Library Room 1009. RSVP: michelle.pratt@utoledo.edu.

Humanities Lecture
"Forgetting, Learning and Living: How Education Can Make a Difference If We Forget Most of What We Learn." Speaker: Dr. Marshall Gregory, Ice Professor of English, Liberal Education and Pedagogy at Butler University. Health and Human Services Building Room 1600. 1 p.m. Free, public. Info: 419.530.2329.

Film Screening
"Twist of Faith." See the Oscar-nominated documentary that chronicles how a Toledo man deals with the aftermath of sexual abuse. Doermann Theater. 7:30 p.m. $7. Info: 419.530.2202.

Planetarium Program
"Women in Astronomy." Ritter Planetarium. 7:30 p.m. Observing at Brooks Observatory follows program, weather permitting. $4 for adults; $3 for seniors and children ages 4-12; free for children 3 and younger. Info: 419.530.4037.

"The Women of Lockerbie"
Center for Performing Arts Studio Theatre. 7:30 p.m. $9, $7 for students. Info: 419.530.2375.

Saturday, Oct. 22

Planetarium Program
"The Moon Witch." Ritter Planetarium. 1 p.m. $4 for adults; $3 for seniors and children ages 4-12; free for children 3 and younger. Info: 419.530.4037.

UTEC Chili Cook-Off
Sample dishes at this event sponsored by UT Engineer's Council. Nitschke Hall First Floor. 4:30-6:30 p.m. Free, public. Info: 419.530.8212.

Football
UT vs. Buffalo. Glass Bowl. 7 p.m. $24 for reserved seating; $19 for general admission; $12 for children 12 and younger; half off for UT employees with ID; free for UT students with ID. Info: 419.530.4231.

Film Screening
"Twist of Faith." Doermann Theater. 7:30 p.m. $7. Tony and Wendy Comes from the movie will take questions after the film. Info: 419.530.2202.

"The Women of Lockerbie"
Center for Performing Arts Studio Theatre. 7:30 p.m. $9, $7 for students. Info: 419.530.2375.

Sunday, Oct. 23

"The Women of Lockerbie"
Center for Performing Arts Studio Theatre. 2 p.m. $9, $7 for students. Info: 419.530.2375.

"Building Healthy Relationships"
The Crossings Multipurpose Room. 7-8:30 p.m. Info: 419.530.4964.

Film Screening
"Twist of Faith." Doermann Theater. 7:30 p.m. $7. Info: 419.530.2202.

See you at the match

Serving it up: Senior Kelsey Culver goes up for a serve.

Photo by Daniel Miller

UT's volleyball team has four matches coming up:

- Friday, Oct. 21 — vs. Eastern Michigan at 7 p.m.
- Saturday, Oct. 22 — vs. Central Michigan at 3 p.m.; game to be carried live by BCSN.
- Friday, Oct. 28 — vs. Western Michigan at 7 p.m.
- Saturday, Oct. 29 — vs. Northern Illinois at 3 p.m.

All matches will take place in Savage Hall.

Tickets are $5 for adults; $3 for students 18 and younger; $1 for UT employees; free for UT students.

For more information, call 419.530.4231.

Monday, Oct. 24

myUT Web Portal Presentation, Open Lab
Rocket Hall Room 1530. Noon-1 p.m. Open lab 4-5 p.m. in Carlson Library Room 1009. RSVP: michelle.pratt@utoledo.edu.

UT News publishes listings for events taking place at the University and for off-campus events that are sponsored by UT groups. Information is due by noon Wednesday, Oct. 26, for the Oct. 31 issue. Send information by e-mail to utmarcom@utnet.utoledo.edu, fax it to Ext. 4618, or drop it in campus mail to #949, UT News, Marketing and Communications, University Hall Room 2110. Due to space limitations, some events may be omitted from UT News; the complete calendar can be found online at www.utnews.utoledo.edu.