Spooky, Spirited Homecoming to Touch Down at UToledo

Come to campus – if you dare... Rocky's Haunted Homecoming will unleash unbridled UToledo enthusiasm as students, employees and alumni psych up for Halloween and the big game.

"We have a lot of fun events planned throughout the week," said Ashlen Torio, director of the Homecoming Committee and senior majoring in operation and supply chain management. "We brought back Eat the Streets and our movie night. Both events are even bigger this year. Eat the Streets is being moved to Centennial Mall during the day to give more students an opportunity to come. And our movie night is now a double feature."

Scaring up fun is the plan before the Toledo Rockets face the Western Michigan Broncos Saturday, Oct. 5, at 3:30 p.m. in the Glass Bowl.

"Students can expect a good time and a lot of school spirit," Torio said. "This is a time when everyone on campus is showing their UToledo pride."

Trick or treat! Go Rockets! Check out this year's Homecoming activities, which include:

Monday, Sept. 30

- Witching Hour Bonfire, 7 to 11 p.m., the Flatlands. Light it up: Test your Homecoming and UToledo trivia and play lawn games.

Tuesday, Oct. 1

- Eat the Streets, 11 a.m. to 2 p.m., Centennial Mall. There'll be food trucks and music!

Wednesday, Oct. 2

- Lip Sync Battle, 7 to 9 p.m., Thompson Student Union Ingman Room. Watch the top 10 Homecoming king and queen candidates take the stage.

Thursday, Oct. 3

- Fright Night, 5 to 11 p.m., Thompson Student Union Rooms 2582 and 2584. It's a spooktacular movie double feature: Watch "The Haunted Mansion" and "The Nun." Paint some pumpkins and have fun with other Halloween activities.

Day of Giving Set for Oct. 15-16

By Laurie B. Davis

UToledo alumni, faculty and staff members, students, and friends will come together Tuesday and Wednesday, Oct. 15 and 16, to support the University's third annual Day of Giving.

The 36-hour campaign, "Rocket Forward: You Launch Lives," will begin at midnight Oct. 15 and end at noon Oct. 16.

"Our Day of Giving offers Rockets everywhere a chance to make a real impact on our students, research and critical programs," UToledo President Sharon L. Gaber said. "Each year, the generosity of our alumni and supporters worldwide helps fuel the success of so many determined people in our community. We're thrilled to see that positive energy and momentum continue this year."

You can designate a gift to any of the more than 2,000 University of Toledo Foundation funds, supporting specific causes and programs that you are passionate about. Every donor and every dollar will make a difference in support of scholarships, athletic and educational programs, research, healthcare, and community services.

Participation is an important goal for Day of Giving, which aims to encourage as many people as possible to support the University. Gift matches and gift challenges are ideal options for making a donation because they double the investment and double the impact. Challenges and matches will be posted on the rocketforward.utoledo.edu website throughout the campaign.

Family Business

Tony Simmons, former CEO of Tabasco, delivered the keynote address at the 2019 KeyBank Global Leaders Forum hosted by KeyBank and The University of Toledo Family Business Center. Simmons is the great-great-grandson of the creator of Tabasco sauce and was the seventh family member to assume leadership of the family-owned and operated McIlhenny Co. on Avery Island in Louisiana over five generations. He talked about his recipe for success and how to address the needs of both the family and the business. The Sept. 26 event titled "A Hot Topic: Success in a Changing Retail Market" was held at the Hilton Garden Inn in Perrysburg. The KeyBank Global Leaders Forum Fund was established with the UToledo Family Business Center to bring world business leaders to town to share their stories and engage conversations for local companies to achieve success.

Day of Giving

Last year, the campaign raised $717,375 from 3,156 donors – including many students and first-time supporters.

As part of the celebration and to raise awareness about philanthropy at UToledo, Centennial Mall and the Health Science Campus will feature fall festival activities with giving opportunities.

The UToledo community is invited to Centennial Mall from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 15, when WXUT FM 88.3 will provide popular music entertainment. Student organizations will offer booths featuring Halloween-themed games. Participants can donate dollars for game tokens, and donations may be made with cash and credit cards. Dog-petting will return to this year's Day of Giving Centennial Mall event: For a $1 donation, you can pet a pup.

Foodies can get their fill by visiting three food trucks that will be on the scene: Koral Hamburg, The Leaf and Seed, and Lyle's Crepes.

On Health Science Campus, giving stations will be located in the Collier Building and the Four Seasons Bistro inside The University of Toledo Medical Center. The College of Nursing will host activities, as well.

In addition, we want to know: What's your UToledo story? We encourage you to tell us how the University has impacted and enhanced your life by sharing your own UToledo experience on social media. Give online at rocketforward.utoledo.edu Oct. 15-16 and share your UToledo story on social media at #RocketForward.

Spotlight on Alumni at Annual Homecoming Gala Oct. 4

It's Homecoming and that means The University of Toledo Alumni Association will present its most prestigious honors: the Gold T, Blue T and Edward H. Schmidt Outstanding Young Alum Award.

These three recipients will be recognized – along with distinguished alumni from each UToledo college – at the Homecoming Alumni Gala and Awards Ceremony Friday, Oct. 4, at 6 p.m. in the Thompson Student Union Auditorium.

Tickets for the gala are $30 each and may be purchased by calling the Office of Alumni Relations at 419.530.ALUM (2586) or by visiting toledoalumni.org. A limited number of tickets remain.

The Gold T is presented to a University of Toledo graduate in recognition of outstanding achievement in his or her field of endeavor while providing leadership and noteworthy service to the community.

The 2019 recipient is Alan Barry of Commerce Township, Mich. A 1966 graduate of the College of Business and Innovation with a bachelor's degree in accounting, Barry is the retired president and chief operating officer of Masco Corp., a Fortune 200 company with interests around the world. Masco's well-known brands include Delta faucets, Behr paint and KraftMaid cabinetry. Barry spent 36 years with Masco, beginning his career in 1972 with what would become its BrassCraft Manufacturing Division. Named one of the 50 most influential people in the home-building industry by Builder Magazine, Barry was instrumental in creating Masco Contractor Services, the industry's largest organization for installation of insulation and other products in new home construction. Barry spearheaded the acquisition and internal development of the companies assembled to create this extensive organization.

Named the College of Business and Innovation's Outstanding Graduate in 2005, Barry and his wife, Karen, a 1964 graduate of the former UToledo Community and Technical College, have been major philanthropists to their alma mater. They have created laboratories in accounting and leadership in the College of Business and Innovation, as well as scholarship and fellowship funds in that college.

The Blue T is presented to a University of Toledo Alumni Association member and UToledo graduate who has made outstanding contributions to the progress and development of the Alumni Association and the University.

Tom Schuster of Maumee, Ohio, is the 2019 honoree. Schuster earned an associate's degree in industrial technology from the former Community and Technical College in 1965 and a bachelor's degree in adult liberal studies from University College in 1985. A past member of the Alumni Association's Board of Trustees, he has served on numerous association committees over the past three decades. Schuster is also a past president of the Downtown Coaches Association, a support group that raises thousands of dollars for the UToledo Athletic Department each year. He and his wife, Marilyn, are members of the President's Club and Heritage Oak Society, the latter in recognition of a planned gift that will provide support to generations of future Rockets. Since graduation, Schuster has financially supported many areas across campus; these include University College, Savage Arena, the Larimer Athletic Complex and the Koester Alumni Pavilion.

Schuster

Retired from Daimler Chrysler since 2001, Schuster was a senior manager in charge of IT computer operations for 27 plants in the United States and five in Canada, while overseeing 175 employees.

The Edward H. Schmidt Outstanding Young Alum Award is presented to a University graduate who is 40 years of age or younger in recognition of outstanding achievement in her or his field of endeavor, while providing leadership and noteworthy service to the Alumni Association, University or community. This award is named in memory of Ed Schmidt, a 1942 alumnus and a longtime supporter of The University of Toledo and its Alumni Association.

The 2019 recipient is Bret Babcock of Nashville, Tenn. Babcock earned a bachelor's degree in finance and organizational development from the College of Business and Innovation, and the Jesup Scott Honors College, in 2010.

Babcock is chief operating officer, chief financial officer and partner at LOGICFORCE, a technology consulting firm that provides eDiscovery, IT optimization and network service consulting, as well as digital forensics to clients in the legal industry. Since joining the company four years ago, Babcock has played a key role in driving success, achieving a compound annual growth rate of more than 40% and helping expand to over 40 employees across 16 states.

Previously an assistant vice president and portfolio management officer at Bank of America, Babcock is involved with several nonprofit causes and organizations, including A Child's Place, the Orchard and LIFE Fellowship. Babcock earned an MBA from the University of Mississippi and in 2017 was awarded the Ole Miss MBA Outstanding Young Alumnus Award.

For more information, contact Dan Saevig, UToledo associate vice president of alumni engagement, at 419.530.4008.

UToledo to Celebrate Filipino-American Heritage Month

There'll be food, dancing and more as The University of Toledo holds events to honor Filipino-American Heritage Month.

"Filipino-American Heritage Month acknowledges the first recorded presence of Filipinos in the United States, which occurred Oct. 18, 1587," Aleiah Jones, program coordinator with the Office of Multicultural Student Success, said. "The month commemorates the contributions Filipinos have made to American history."

Listed by date, events facilitated through the Office of Multicultural Student Success and the Filipino-American Association include:

- Wednesday, Oct. 2 – Filipino-American Heritage Month Kickoff, 11 a.m. to 2 p.m., Thompson Student Union Steps. Members of the Filipino-American Association will serve samples of Filipino food, including lumpia, teach a traditional dance called Tinikling, and talk about the art of Filipino tattoos through henna. If it rains, the event will be moved inside by the Thompson Student Union South Dining Hall.
- Monday, Oct. 7 – Delano Grape Strike Event, 6 p.m., Carlson Library Room 1005. Learn about the 1965-1970 Delano Grape Strike and Boycott when Filipino-American workers asked César Chávez to help protest poor pay and working conditions. Cultural foods will be served at this event presented by the Filipino-American Association, potential candidates of Lambda Theta Alpha, and the Latino Student Union.
- Thursday, Oct. 17 – Food Workshop, 7 p.m., Thompson Student Union Rooms 2582 and 2584. Learn how to make halo halo (ice cream), the traditional dessert of the Philippines.
- Saturday, Oct. 19 – Philippine Culture Night, 7 p.m., Thompson Student Union Auditorium. Join the Filipino-American Association for an evening of traditional food, dancing and singing. The event is free, but seats are limited.
- Monday, Oct. 21 – Dodgeball Tournament, 7 p.m., Student Recreation Center Indoor Soccer Field. Come to compete with the Filipino-American Association.
- Thursday, Oct. 24 – Language Workshop, 7 p.m., Thompson Student Union Room 2584. A member of the Filipino-American Association will teach the basics of the ancient writing system, Baybayin.

Events for LGBTQ History Month Slated at University

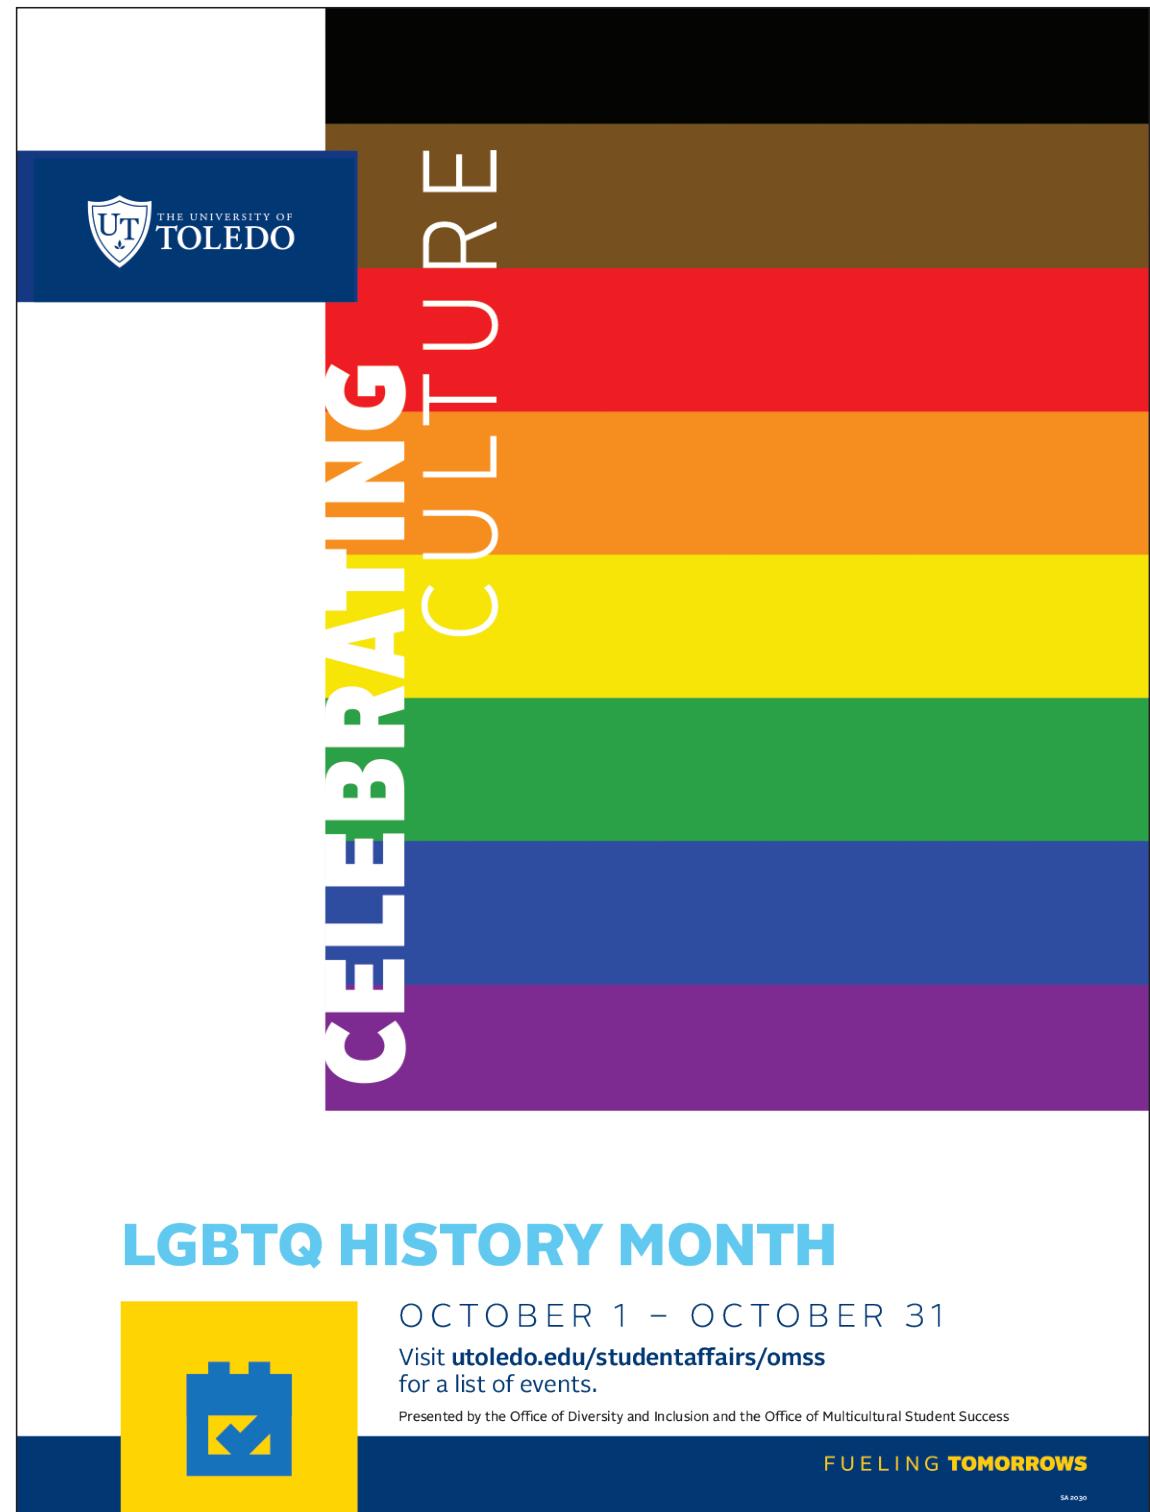

Several events in honor of LGBTQ History Month will take place at The University of Toledo.

"LGBTQ History Month provides folks with opportunities to learn about, honor and celebrate the LGBTQA+ community," Danielle Stamper, program coordinator in the Office of Multicultural Student Success, said. "I am really excited that a lot of our events this month are about educating folks on LGBTQA+ inclusionary practices. It has been really difficult to watch LGBTQA+ rights be continuously challenged on a national level, and I am looking forward to our campus progressing forward with inclusionary efforts for LGBTQA+ folks."

The Office of Multicultural Student Success, LGBTQA+ Initiatives and Prism are dedicated to serving the needs of lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, queer, questioning, asexual and allied students.

Listed by date, events scheduled to increase awareness for LGBTQ History Month include:

- Monday, Sept. 30 – LGBTQ History Month Kickoff, 11 a.m. to 2 p.m., Centennial Mall. Check out the display of the different flags in the LGBTQA+ community and learn the history behind the banners. Pick up mini-flags and rainbow treats.
- Wednesday, Oct. 9 – UTrans* Meeting, 4 p.m., Thompson Student Union Room 3522. Celebrate National Coming Out Day by sharing your story. UTrans* is a student organization for transgender and nonbinary individuals to connect and learn in solidarity.
  - What is the LGBTQQIP2SAA Community and How to be an Ally, 6 p.m., MacKinnon Hall Room 1370. Dr. Glenn Sheldon, professor in the Jesup Scott Honors College, and Dr. Carla Pattin, instructor of Africana studies, will lead this introduction to the alphabet soup of identities or refresher for those somewhat familiar to the spectrum and what it all means.
- Wednesday, Oct. 16 – International Pronoun Day, 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.,
- Thompson Student Union Steps. LGBTQA+ Initiatives will provide information about pronouns – why they are important and how to use them. Stop by to learn and pick up a pronoun button.
- Friday, Oct. 18 – Inclusive Safer Sex, 2 p.m., Catharine S. Eberly Center for Women, located in Tucker Hall Room 0152.
- Monday, Oct. 21 – Screening of "From Selma to Stonewall: Are We There Yet?" 5:30 p.m., Thompson Student Union Room 2500. This film marks the 50th anniversary of the Stonewall Uprising to inspire new activists.
- Wednesday, Oct. 23 – LGBTQA+ Initiatives Ted Talk, 5 to 6 p.m., Thompson Student Union Room 2500. The Office of Multicultural Student Success is hosting this guided panel discussion. Light refreshments will be served.
- Friday, Oct. 25 – UTrans* and the Sexuality and Gender Alliance Halloween Party, 3 p.m., location to be announced. Costumes are encouraged!
- Sunday, Oct. 27 – Halloween Drag Brunch With Hershae Chocolatae, 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., Center for Alumni and Donor Engagement, 4510 Dorr St. Chocolatae appeared on "America's Got Talent." Ticket information will be available soon; UT Toledo students can email Stamper at danielle.stamper@utoledo.edu for free tickets. For more information, call the Office of Multicultural Student Success at 419.530.2261.

Express Yourself

Dr. Paulette Kilmer, professor of communication, sang "Singin' in the Rain" to encourage a student to belt out a tune to win an umbrella at the 22nd annual UToledo Banned Books Week Vigil. She also gave a presentation titled "Outrageous T-Shirts — Free Expression or Rudeness?" at the Sept. 26 event in the Health and Human Services Building. Her discussion focused on the right to wear — and read — whatever you choose. About 530 attended the daylong event, and 153 challenged or banned books were given away as door prizes, according to Kilmer, coordinator of the UToledo Banned Books Coalition. The vigil champions the right to read, think, speak and create freely.

Equal Justice

Kimberly Norwood, Henry H. Oberschelp Professor of Law at the Washington University School of Law in St. Louis, visited campus Sept. 26 to give the Cannon Lecture in the Law Center McQuade Auditorium. Her talk was titled "Ferguson Five Years Later: A Look at the Legal and Social Reverberations in Ferguson and Around the Nation." Norwood is the author of the 2016 book, "Ferguson's Fault Lines: The Race Quake That Rocked a Nation," which used Ferguson as the foundation for a study on how various laws, social conditions, and economic and political policies may negatively impact the lives of black and brown people in America — contributing to racial and socioeconomic conflict. The College of Law's Cannon Lecture Series hosts nationally known individuals who explore both the humanistic dimensions and limitations of the legal system.

Moving Display

Chloe Wynn, a freshman, looked at the Clothesline Project, which was on display last Thursday on Centennial Mall. Hosted by the UToledo Center for Student Advocacy and Wellness, the event is an avenue for those affected by sexual violence to express their emotions through writings and drawings on symbolic T-shirts. The shirts are hung on a clothesline to be viewed by others as testimony to the issue of sexual violence.

Professional Staff: Enroll in Sick Leave Bank

October means open enrollment for the Professional Staff Association (PSA) Sick Leave Bank.

PSA members can make a one-time donation: Full-time employees can give 16 hours, and part-time staff can donate eight hours.

Established in 1998, The University of Toledo Professional Staff Association's Sick Leave Bank has proven to be a worthwhile effort, according to Deb Sobczak, chair of the Sick Leave Bank Committee.

"The Professional Staff Association Sick Leave Bank provides help for all members who have exhausted their own vacation and sick hours due to a personal catastrophic illness or injury," she said.

In 2010, the Sick Leave Bank was expanded to include professional staff on Health Science Campus. The University agreed to allow this valuable resource to continue in 2017.

"If you have not made a donation, please consider joining the PSA Sick Leave Bank and helping your co-workers who may need assistance now or in the future," said Sobczak, director of student services, pre-pharmacy, in the College of Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences.

Those who wish to join the Sick Leave Bank and help their co-workers can find policy information, current member list, and the donation form on the Professional Staff Association website at utoledo.edu/org/psa/sickleavebank.html.

IN MEMORIAM

Dr. Virginia Chambers, Toledo, professor emerita of music, died Sept. 13 at age 88. She joined the University as an associate professor in 1975 and was promoted to professor in 1979. Chambers taught classes for music education majors and elementary education majors, as well as first-year music theory for all music majors. Among her published works were the books titled "Reading Tonal Patterns" and "Tometrics: Music for the Classroom Teacher," which she co-wrote with Dr. Robert DeYarman, professor emeritus of music. Her service to the University included the President's Commission on Enrollment, the Promotion and Tenure Committee, and the Arts and Sciences Council. Chambers, an ardent UToledo men's and women's basketball fan, was named professor emerita when she retired in 1992.

Dr. Temoleon G. "Tim" Rousos, Columbus, professor emeritus of technical science and mathematics, died Sept. 22 at age 86. He was hired as an instructor in 1965 and one year later was named an assistant professor of community studies and coordinator of data processing and computer programming. Rousos was promoted to associate professor in 1969 and professor of basic, technical and general education in the Community and Technical College in 1979. He co-authored several textbooks on general mathematics, statistics, and consumer and business mathematics. Rousos served as chair of the Faculty Senate and the Senate Student Affairs Committee, and was a faculty representative to the Joint Commission on Student Rights and to the UToledo Board of Trustees. The Army veteran of the Korean War was a UToledo alumnus; he received a bachelor of education degree in 1954, an education specialist degree in 1974, and a doctor of education degree in 1979. Rousos was a lifelong member of the UToledo Alumni Association.

Dr. Dorothy C. Siegel, Toledo, professor emerita of linguistics, died Sept. 22 at age 72. She joined the Department of English in 1977 as an assistant professor and was promoted to associate professor in 1981. Hundreds of students have noted her dynamic presence in the classroom; she assisted many in applying to prestigious graduate programs in linguistics and advised on their careers. Her research focused on lexical morphology; phonological words and phrases; the structure of English words; and linguistics and aphasia. She served on the Linguistic Society of America's Undergraduate Program Advisory Committee and evaluated grant applications for the Linguistics Section of the National Endowment for the Humanities. Her book, "Topics in English Morphology," revolutionized previous notions of the interaction between the morphological component of grammar and its phonological component. Among the highlights of her career were an NEH Summer Fellowship at Georgetown University. She served on several University committees, including the Executive Committee of the Faculty Senate and the Arts and Sciences Council. Siegel was named professor emerita when she retired in 2010. A celebration of life will take place Saturday, Nov. 2, at 11 a.m. at the Toledo Club, 235 14th St. Tributes are suggested to the Department of English Language and Literature through The University of Toledo Foundation.

World Language Proficiency Topic of Oct. 3 Discussion

"Languages Mean Business" is the title of a roundtable discussion that will take place Thursday, Oct. 3.

Presented by The University of Toledo Department of World Languages and Cultures, the free event will be held from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. in Carlson Library Room 1005.

"World language proficiency and intercultural competence are increasingly important for business collaborations, healthcare services, cutting-edge collaborative scientific research, as well as national security," said Dr. Linda M. Rouillard, professor of French and chair of the Department of World Languages and Cultures.

The roundtable discussion will include comments from:

- M. Cyril Gauchet of the Québec Delegation;
- Guillaume Lacroix, French consul general in the Chicago office;
- Dr. Ngalula Sandrine Mubenga, UToledo assistant professor of electrical engineering technology and founder of SMIN Power Group LLC and STEM DRC Initiative;

- Ryan Wertz, Ohio Department of Education consultant with Ohio Seal of Biliteracy; and
- Paul Zito, vice president of international development with RGP Northwest Ohio.

All participants are invited to share their experiences of the ways in which their knowledge of other languages and cultures has enhanced their job prospects and careers.

Studying and speaking foreign languages is more important than ever, according to the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, which noted in a 2017 report the economic and scientific need for international language fluency.

To register for the free event, which will include refreshments and lunch, email charlene.gary@utoledo.edu.
