

Success Coach or Adviser – Where do I go?

Go to your Success Coach when you:

- need connections or referrals to campus resources like tutoring or counseling;
- could use help on your study strategies (goal setting, time management, etc.);
- are having trouble transitioning to college (feeling alone or homesick, etc.);
- need some direction to get more involved on campus;
- are just beginning to think about possible careers;
- need help navigating financial aid;
- are having trouble managing a budget;

Go to your Academic Adviser when you:

- need connections or referrals to campus resources like tutoring or counseling;
- could use help on your study strategies (goal setting, time management, etc.);
- lay out an initial plan of study in your major, or need to update your plan of study;
- need help with course selection or registration;
- need help running or interpreting your online degree audit report;
- want to double check that you're on track to graduate on time (ideally every semester);
- want to declare or change a major or minor;
- need information about experiential learning opportunities in general (co-ops, internships, study abroad, etc.);
- need information regarding college policies or procedures (GPA Recalculation, Transient Study, Academic Standing, etc.);
- need to start focusing on your career readiness.

Go to your Major/Faculty Adviser(s) when you:

- need connections or referrals to campus resources like tutoring or counseling;
- need advice on which elective major courses you should take;
- need information about experiential learning opportunities in your major (co-ops, internships, study abroad, etc.);
- reach 80 credit hours, in order to do your Graduation Progress Check Sheet;
- need advice about next steps you should take in your field after graduation;
- want to start preparing for applying to graduate or professional school.
