Letter from the President

Dear graduates,

Congratulations! Today you become Rocket Alumni!

This day marks the end of an extraordinary academic journey. You have earned your place among our graduates through persistence, commitment and expansive intellectual growth.

But more importantly, today marks the Commencement of the next stage of your life, launching you on a path of service, growth, contribution and family. Today is another exciting beginning.

At The University of Toledo, your journey has been shaped by discovery, innovation and purpose. You have engaged in experiences that challenge convention, advance knowledge and connect learning to real-world impact. You have learned through study, and you have learned by doing. You leave here prepared to succeed.

As your new journey begins, I urge you to remain curious about the world and the people around you. None of us knows all, and none of us is right in every instance. New ideas, new opportunities and new challenges will continue to shape you. Never stop asking questions and seeking knowledge. It is the foundation of progress.

Your education has equipped you to act, so embrace your agency! Whether you are entering the workforce, continuing your studies or forging some other new direction, step forward with intention and resolve. Progress is driven by those who are willing to do; to build, to solve and to innovate.

You can change lives. Use your talents to contribute in the ways that are meaningful to you. Lead with integrity, collaborate with purpose, and remain committed to something greater than yourself.

You are ready for this moment.

Take time today to reflect on the journey that brought you here, including the support of family and friends, the mentorship of faculty and staff, and the shared experiences with your classmates. You are part of a community that will continue to support and inspire you long after today.

You will always be part of UToledo. With a global network of more than 173,000 alumni, Rocket Nation is a lifelong connection rooted in pride, purpose and possibility. All of these members of Rocket Nation are here for you.

As you step forward on your new road, embrace the opportunity ahead. Demonstrate The Power To Do every day.

Congratulations, and Go Rockets!

Honors College Medallions

The Honors College presents its graduating candidates with cast medallions that hang from gold ribbons and diplomas indicating the completion of all the honors requirements of their baccalaureate colleges. These candidates, the Honors College dean and the directors of each college’s honors program are wearing their medallions in today’s ceremony. In order to qualify for graduation with the Honors College diploma and medallion, each student must maintain at least a 3.3 cumulative grade point average, earn a substantial number of credits through designated honors courses, complete a thesis or research project, and satisfy all the other requirements of his or her respective college’s honors program.

Academic Dress

Academic dress was first used in medieval universities in Europe, having evolved from the attire of members of the monastic orders who were the chief scholars of that time. Many varieties of gowns, headdress and hoods have been used, but beginning around 1895, colleges and universities in the U.S. developed a code that most institutions follow.

The Gown

The gown is black and white, traditionally of serge, worsted, poplin or silk, and often made of modern fibers. Sleeves for the bachelor's gown are pointed, for the master's closed with slits for the arms, and for the doctor's round and open. The doctor's gown has a velvet facing and three velvet bars on the sleeves, either black or the color stipulated for the degree held.

The Hood

The hood originated from the tippet or shoulder covering worn by begging friars. The master's hood is narrower and more pointed than the doctor's hood. Hoods are lined with the colors of the institution from which the degree was earned and are edged with the velvet of a color designating the degree.

The Cap

The cap most commonly worn is the black mortarboard. Doctor's caps usually have gold tassels. Others may have black or colored tassels, the latter indicating the field of study.

There are variations, both in hood and headdress, for the degrees earned in foreign countries. Some American universities also have distinguishing academic dress. Holders of doctoral degrees from The University of Toledo and members of its Board of Trustees are entitled to wear the official University of Toledo doctoral costume, adopted by the Board of Trustees on June 11, 1968, at the request of the Graduate Student Association and the graduate faculty.

The University of Toledo doctoral costume is in the official colors of the University. The robe is of midnight blue faille, with black velvet panels and bars outlined in gold. There is a choice of headgear – the mortarboard in blue or the black velvet tam, each with a gold tassel. The hood of black faille is lined with the colors of the University – midnight blue and gold.

Color of trimming for the doctor's gown and for the doctor's and master's hood and the field of learning represented are: white, arts and letters; sapphire blue or drab, business administration; light blue, education; orange, engineering; brown, fine arts; purple, jurisprudence; lemon, library science; green, medicine; pink, music; olive, pharmacy; dark blue, philosophy; and yellow, science.

Cords

Red, white and blue military honor cords recognize graduates who have served or are currently serving in the U.S. Armed Forces.

Oath of the Pharmacist

"I promise to devote myself to a lifetime of service to others through the profession of pharmacy. In fulfilling this vow:

I will consider the welfare of humanity and relief of suffering my primary concerns.

I will treat all patients with dignity and respect and will not discriminate against any patient.

I will apply my knowledge, experience and skills to the best of my ability to assure optimal outcomes for all patients.

I will respect and protect all personal and health information entrusted to me.

I will accept the responsibility to improve my professional knowledge, expertise, and self-awareness.

I will hold myself and my colleagues to the highest principles of our profession's moral, ethical and legal conduct.

I will embrace and advocate changes that improve patient care.

I will utilize my knowledge, skills, experiences and values to prepare the next generation of pharmacists.

I take these vows voluntarily with the full realization of the responsibility with which I am entrusted by the public."
