Connecting Research to Potential Solutions

Now that your group has completed the research about housing and quality of life in the neighborhood, and you have heard from other groups what they found too, we are going to take this one step further.

1. In your groups, identify at least one neighborhood challenge that you think should be addressed to improve the quality of life in the community.

2. What are some potential solutions to this issue? Consider the following criteria when constructing your solutions.

- Who will be responsible for implementing this solution? Community Members? The homeowner? Neighborhood organizations? The City government? Anyone else?
- How much will it cost to solve the problem?
- Who will pay?
- How will it improve the aesthetics of the neighborhood?
- What will the overall impacts be on the quality of life?
