"No person in the United States shall, on the basis of sex, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any education program or activity receiving Federal financial assistance."

Pregnancy Discrimination Under Title IX

01

Right to accommodations to ensure equal access

02

Protection from exclusion or retaliation

03

Pregnancy treated as a temporary disability

Protection Against Exclusion

Schools may not exclude a student from any class, program, or extracurricular activity because of pregnancy, childbirth, or related conditions.

Participation must be voluntary if an alternate program or activity is offered (e.g., homebound instruction).

EQUAL TREATMENT AND ACCESS

Pregnant students must be treated the same as temporarily disabled students regarding services and accommodations.

All benefits and services provided to other students with temporary medical conditions must also be made available to pregnant students.

Reasonable Accommodations

Schools must provide reasonable adjustments as needed for pregnancy-related conditions (e.g., larger desks, breaks during class).

Instructors and staff cannot penalize students for medically necessary absences related to pregnancy or childbirth.

TYPES OF PREGNANCY ACCOMMODATIONS

Academic Adjustments:

- Extended deadlines for assignments, projects, and exams
- Opportunities for makeup work after absences related to pregnancy or childbirth
- Flexibility in attendance policies without penalty

Scheduling Accommodations:

- Modified class schedules to accommodate medical appointments or pregnancy-related fatigue
- Option to attend classes remotely or access recorded lectures if available
- Adjusted exam times or locations to reduce stress or physical discomfort

Physical Accessibility and Facilities:

- Access to rest areas or more frequent breaks during classes or exams
- Permission to carry water, snacks, or pillows as needed
- Use of elevators or accessible routes if mobility is affected

Parenting Students

01

Equal access to academic programs, extracurriculars, and support services

02

No exclusion from student housing due to parenting status

03

Avoid assumptions about parenting students' abilities or priorities

Policies/Accommodations for Parenting Students

Title IX does not require schools to provide class accommodations specifically for parenting students, unless those students are also affected by another protected category

However, schools may not discriminate based on parental status, and supportive policies are encouraged
